OUR GATEWAY TO MEMORIES.

LIX. . . .A year of special significance; the dawn of a new era; a change in the school curriculum; more emphasis on academic achievement. As the Roman numerals contrast with Arabic figures, so modern life is unique and eventful—a maze of complexities. How Withrow meets this challenge is the theme of the 1959 Annual.

THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE
WASHINGTON

December 22, 1958

To the students and faculty of Withrow:

Few things, if any, are of greater importance to this nation than its ability to develop fully and properly its most important national resource -- its people.

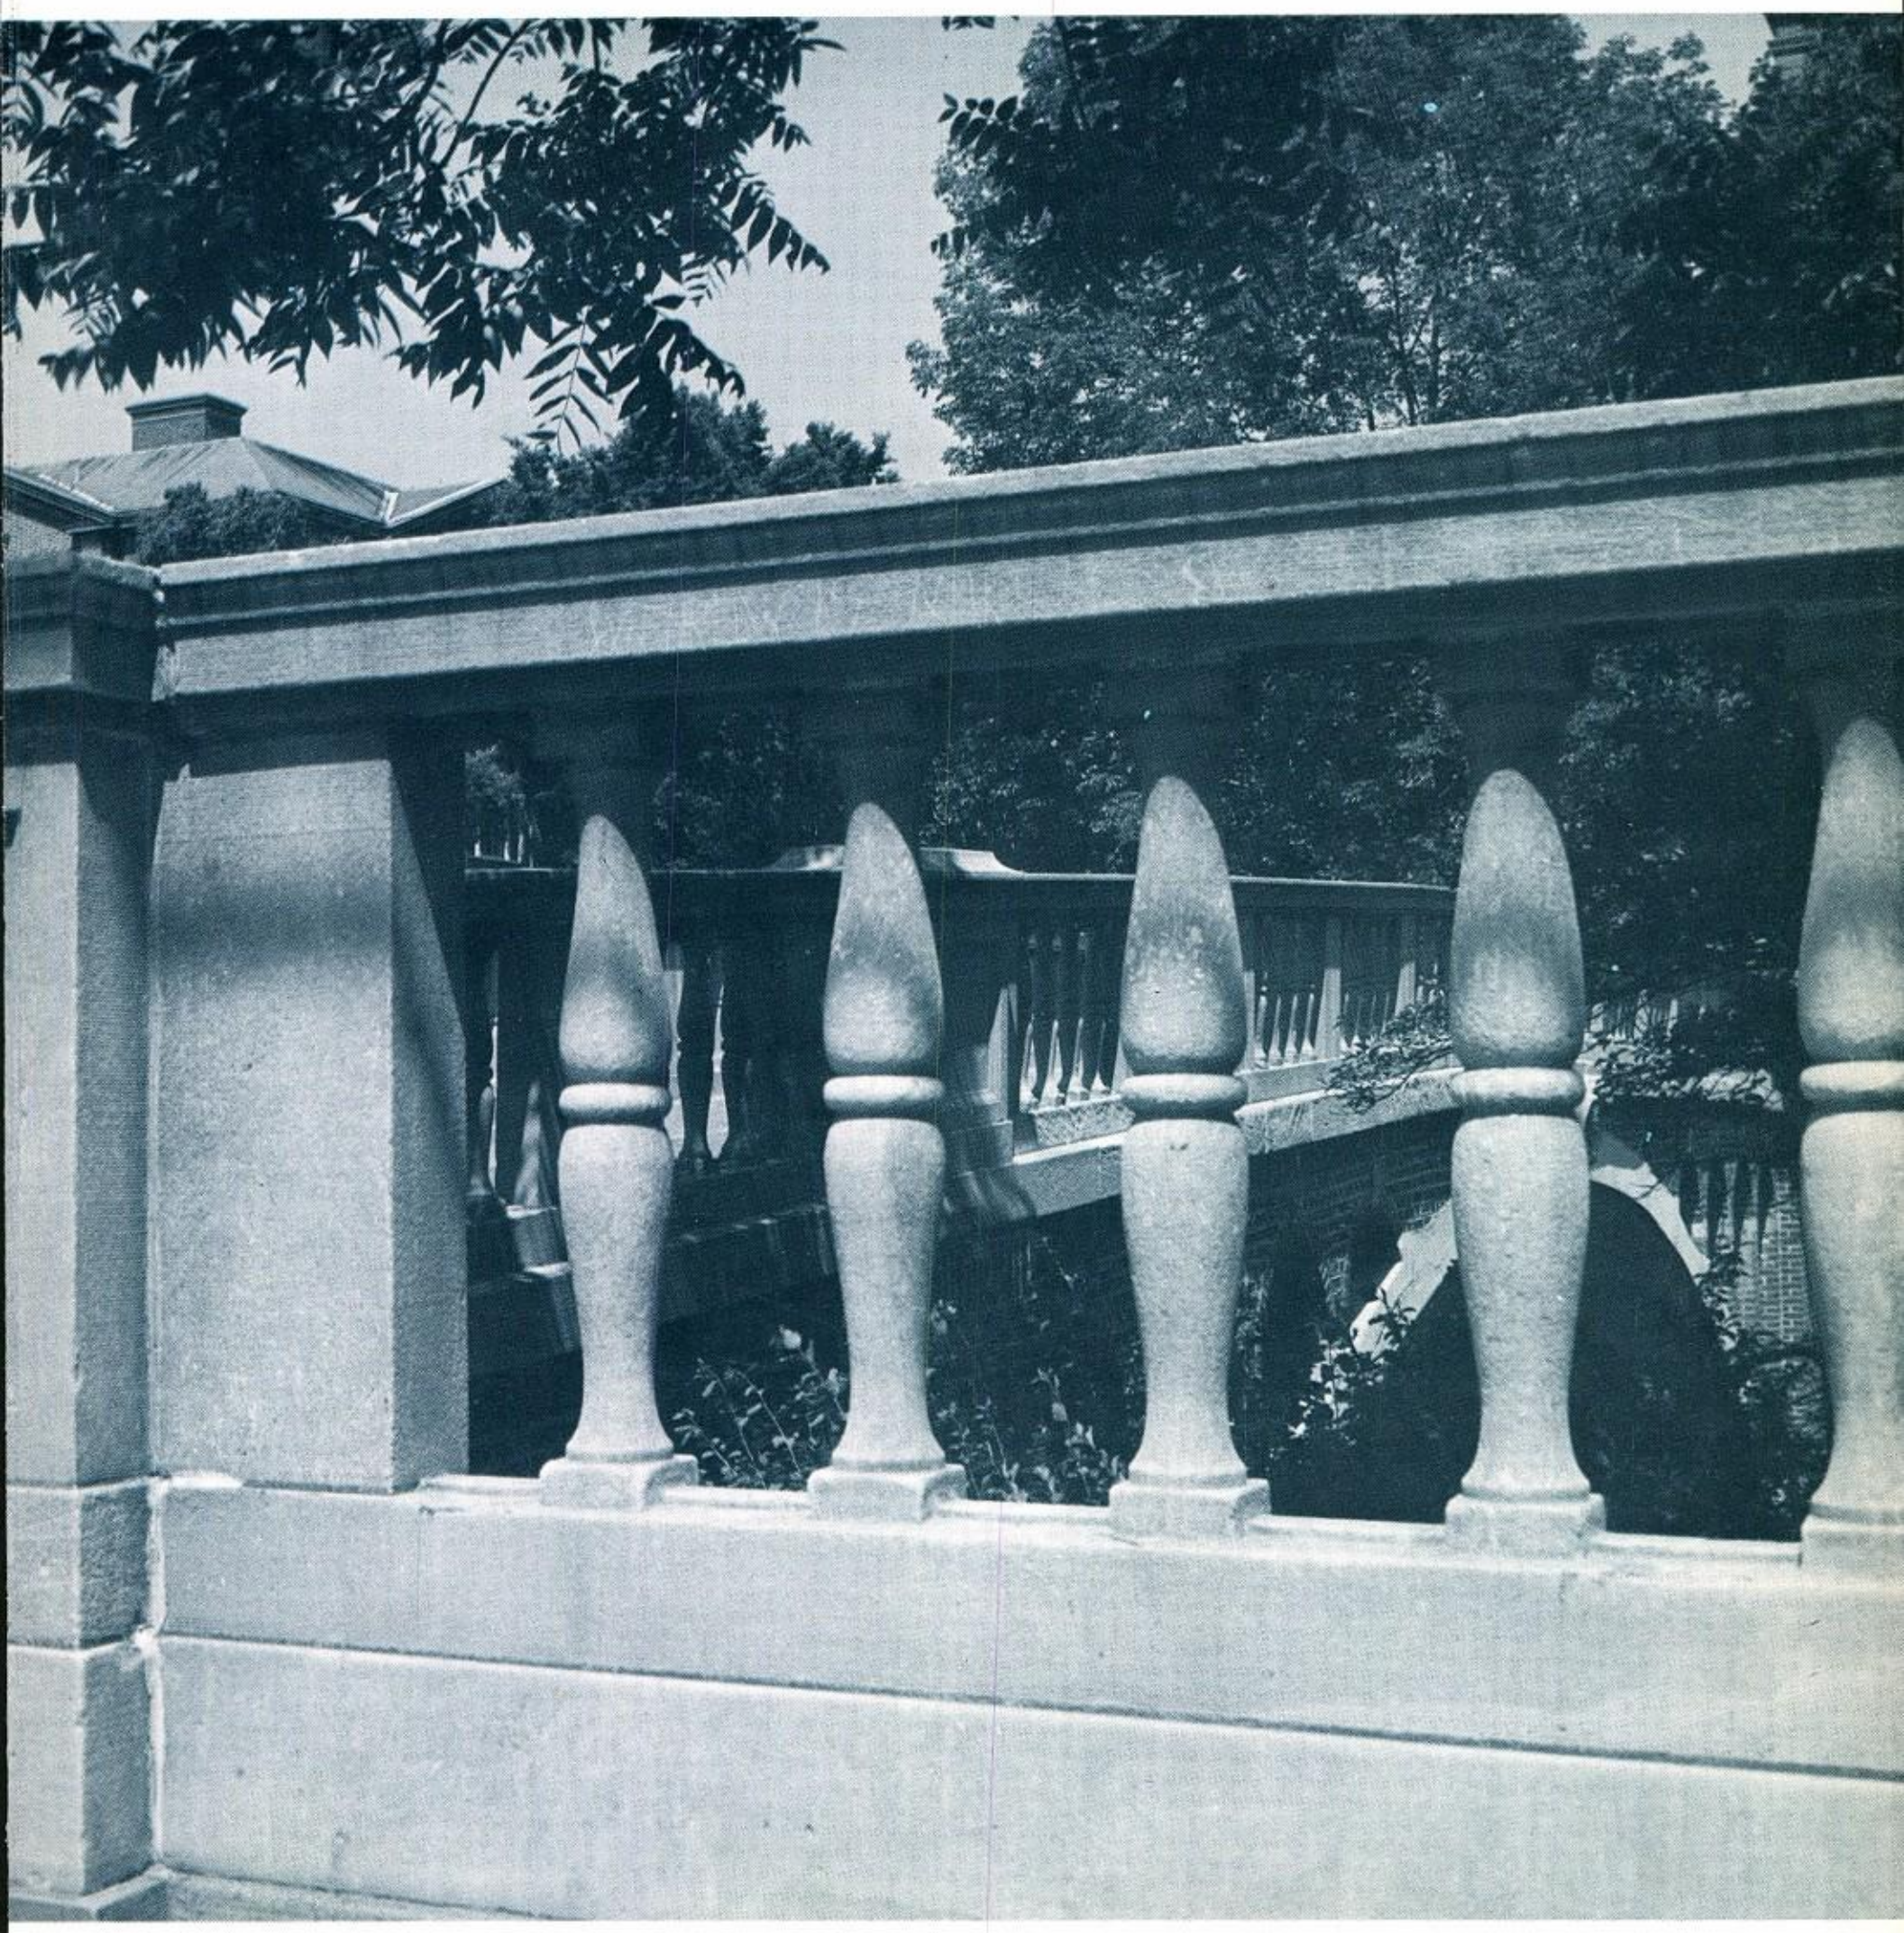
Today America is challenged on many international fronts. We face severe competition not only in terms of the military strength which will enable us to survive but also in commerce, economic growth, scientific achievement, culture and the acceptance of those ideas which determine the way in which mankind thinks and lives. If our nation is to remain pre-eminent, we cannot be wasteful of the talents and abilities of our young people, from whom the leadership of the future must come.

The high school years are vital ones in this regard. It is then that aptitudes and capabilities must be identified and prepared for development to the fullest possible extent. The course that demands the most from us, the standards that make us strain to achieve them, the application of ourselves that calls forth our maximum efforts -- these are what will cause our future leaders to grow and thus add essential strength to our nation.

I extend my greetings to the students and faculty of Withrow, my own former high school, and my best wishes for full lives of achievement and satisfaction.

Sincerely

Dwight D. Eisenhower



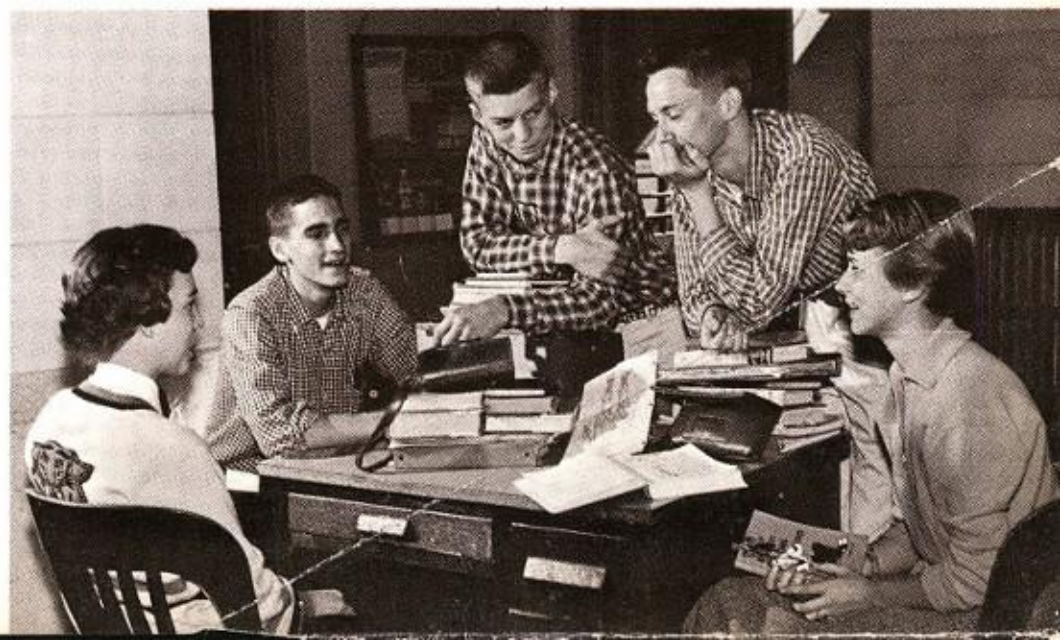
REQUIEM FOR A PERCH!

Nevertheless, the routine of everyday school life remained for both the administrative staff and the student body. Preparing lunch for the three thousand students was a cycle of cooking, serving, and washing, repeated every day. Pupils spent free time monitoring in the halls or doing reference work in the library. After three, the hustle through empty corridors to after-school activities was a daily occurrence.

LIBRARIAN AND A STUDENT SEEK SOURCES.

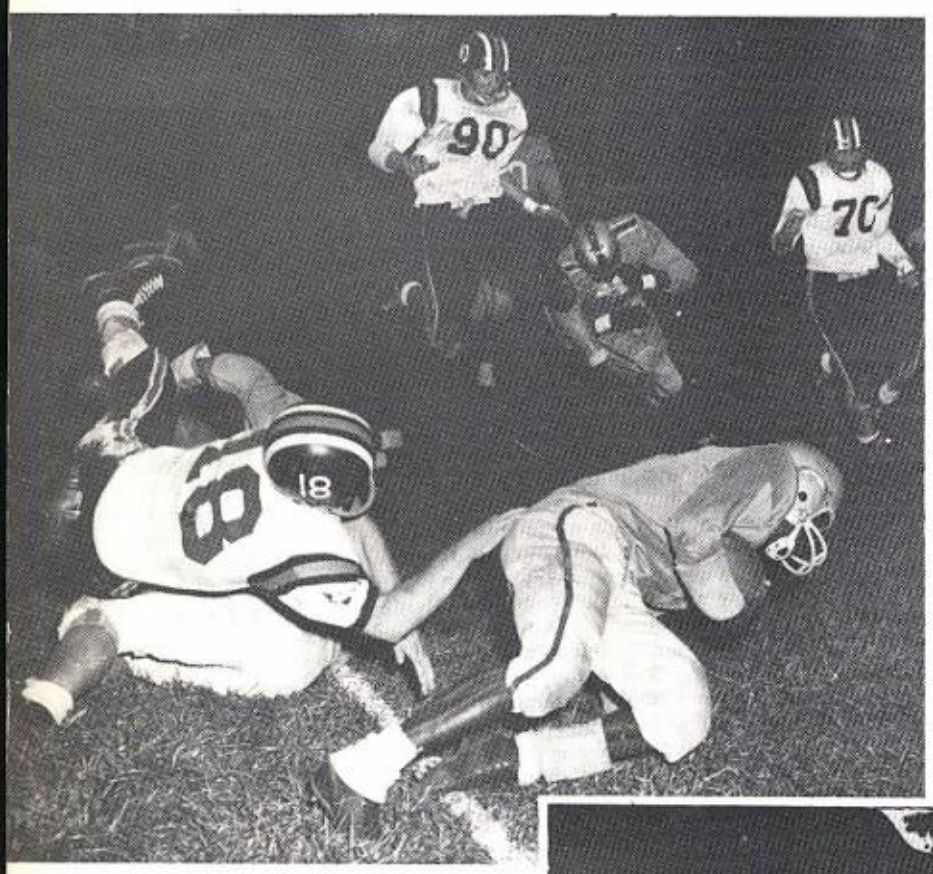
THE HALLS OF WITHROW, LOCKER-LINED, ALMOST DESERTED, ECHO WITH MEMORIES OF BUSIER HOURS.

MONITORS MULL OVER DISCIPLINE PROBLEMS.



ASSEMBLIES—WHAT A WELCOME BREAK FROM DAILY ROUTINE!

A RUN, A TACKLE, "IT'S ALL IN THE GAME."



The year 1959 was associated with many exciting and gay events. Rousing pep assemblies, tense, spirited athletic contests, topped off by fun-filled dances—all contributed an important part toward making this year a special year, a different year. Continue on now and relive with us: "LIX," Withrow—'59!

Mr. "Cad" And Cohorts Assure Us Of Competence

Thinking back on our high school years, trifles slip our minds, but Mr. Cadwallader's understanding smile remains prominent in our thoughts. His advice to set up a goal and work to attain it encouraged the student body. In his three years at Withrow he has developed an efficient and successful management of the school's functions. Our administrator aids parents in understanding different points of view at PTA meetings; he also presides at faculty gatherings.

Our congenial, always helpful assistant principals make up the other half of a successful team of leaders. Besides directing the activities of the upper grades, Mr. McDevitt finds time to sponsor Sigma Gamma and to supervise the Senior Prom. Mr. Buxton, in his second year as junior high administrator, has secured many lasting friendships. These men have found the key to true popularity because of their industrious endeavors for the betterment of Withrow.

Infallible Guides Offer Assistance

In such a large school as Withrow how do pupils get any individual attention and advice? This is surely a natural query and we are happy that we have a satisfactory answer—the counselors. What a confused state Withrow would be in without our highly efficient counselors! Under their very capable leadership many have faced life's problems with a better understanding. Their patience and kindness have reassured many a bewildered pupil. They promote cooperation between student and teacher. These busy, congenial people are always ready to help, whether it's an early excuse or a college recommendation. Planning programs and making adjustments when these become necessary are some of their responsibilities. Those in senior high look to Mrs. Konrad and Mr. Collins for guidance; while the junior Tigers are under the direction of Miss Murphy and Mr. Kimble. We are truly grateful to our counselors.

Withrow Secretaries Are Capability Personified

Mrs. Allen; Miss Longland; Miss Kershaw; Miss Evans

An indispensable and integral part of the executive branch of Withrow High School is the secretarial staff. These highly efficient and amiable women devote their energy to the business of seeing that Withrow operates smoothly and accurately. Whether lending themselves to the production of bulletins, exam papers, or business letters, our secretaries prove themselves to be capable workers as well as warmly enthusiastic supporters of Withrow's good name. Also among the duties of our secretaries are the filling out of summonses, recording of grades, and the transferring of transcripts. Seeming never to tire, they are always quick to be of service to each student or teacher, greeting everyone with a friendly "Hello" and a warm smile. Unlike many connected with Withrow, however, the secretaries must perform their duties all year. Summer school, registration, and the arrangement of schedules occupy the "vacation" months. To us they are always "ready, willing, and able."

English Forms The Basis For A Sound Education

Long ago the basis of education was "readin', writin' and 'rithmetic." The English department is responsible for the first two of these essentials. It endeavors to create literary appreciation and to instill fundamental language skills. Among the various types of English courses offered at Withrow are the modified general, general, college preparatory, and advanced placement groups. Classes are arranged in this manner so that students will have fair competition. Lively discussions and dramatizations of great classics acquaint the pupil with important concepts and philosophies of life. Encouragement on the part of the faculty has often resulted in original compositions by literary aspirants. One purpose of the department is to excite the students to enjoy and to benefit from some of the finest reading material ever written.

Languages Bring Foreign Lands Closer

Latin, German, French, and Spanish comprise the list of foreign languages offered to the students at Withrow. Because of a rise of interests in foreign affairs, the eyes of the present generation turn toward a source in which they may find a better understanding of their neighbors. This source is a language course starting in the seventh and eighth grades. A student may take a two and a half period class in either French, Latin, or Spanish. Upon reaching the ninth grade, the student takes a full five-period course in the selected language. Having had the previous exposure in the two early years, the pupil should find the tongue much easier and have a greater appreciation of it. Through the untiring efforts of our more than able teaching staff, the valuable knowledge of a foreign language is made available to all those at Withrow.

Mathematics - - For Those Who Want To Get Ahead

As the effect of science on the twentieth century makes itself more and more evident, so the lack of highly trained personnel comes into the view of the public. To do its part in combating this deficiency, Withrow began an accelerated course in mathematics two years ago. The object of this program is to finish the first year of college math while in the twelfth grade. The course has proved to be a highly successful enterprise. Whether an advanced course or business arithmetic, mathematics still offers a challenge. Teachers and counselors, alike, encourage qualified students to take higher mathematics. In this way we at Withrow may do our part to keep our nation supplied with technicians and scientists, so that it may maintain its position as the greatest country the earth has ever known.

Eager Students Study Science And Its Processes

Not long ago the United States sent up its first satellite, "The Explorer." A new outlook started in education in the fields of science. Withrow is ready to take her place in this world in which there is a need for a great emphasis on sciences. She has courses in both the natural and social phases. Withrow, clearly showing her foresight into the unknown future, has supplied faster moving courses for those who excel in science, besides the regular courses for those who are less ambitious. Her teachers continue their research so as to meet the demand. Biology, botany, and physiology still rank as high as chemistry and physics, nevertheless. The rocket age has put emphasis on the sciences of experimentation, but a full and understanding knowledge of the world around is necessary today.

EXPERT INSTRUCTION INSURES INTEREST IN ANATOMY, IN PHYSIOLOGY CLASSES.

STUDENTS ARE INTERESTED IN THE RELATIONSHIPS BETWEEN SOCIAL STUDIES AND TOPOGRAPHY.

Social Studies Explore Past

Social studies dwell on man's relations with his environment. Historical as well as contemporary culture is a topic discussed in sociology, while students in economics are concerned with the problems in production, consumption, distribution and exchange, or inflation and deflation. Since the students of today will be the leaders of tomorrow, it is necessary that they understand the ever-changing cycle of events of the modern world. The fate of nations, the fortunes of men, and the probing questions that only exploration can explain are all unveiled by history. The mysteries of life itself are exemplified through study of mankind. Our expert teachers strive to make the past live in the present, trying unfailingly to unscramble the facts from fiction. Controversy stimulates the imagination of interested students. The old maps, charts, pictures, and relics of the past become part of our lives in a fascinating pattern. The year has passed and now it is our turn to make history.

Music And Art Teachers Inspire Creative Ability

The music and art departments lend an air of creativeness and accomplishment to Tigertown. Noted for outstanding performance, the music section has won many awards to its credit—a first place in the state contest at Capitol University. Our art department is one of which students may well be proud. Talented Withrowites are given useful advice by capable and helpful faculty members in order to perfect their skills. Numerous blue ribbons in local poster contests have been copped by these art enthusiasts.

Commercial Courses Prepare Pupils For Future

Withrow's commercial courses, like those of other schools, have grown tremendously in the last few years. Typing gives the student a chance to apply skills in actual production. Shorthand continues to be the hub of the commercial wheel. It places a greater emphasis upon exactness and accuracy. General Business, as a basic course for all pupils, offers an introduction to business and economic competency. Including actual production, filing, and clerical work, the Office Practice course adds to the student's business knowledge. On-the-job experience is gained by the merchandising classes who work part-time in offices and stores. Working for the school services helps students gain poise and self-confidence which are necessary qualities in business. The commercial department of Withrow is one of the finest and best equipped in the city. Withrowites who take these business courses can be proud of their excellent business training.

Amid the shouts of laughter and bursts of enthusiasm, the gym instructors and health teachers proceed to educate the young-in-spirit the fundamentals of correct health habits and physical activity. In gym the main objective is to train Withrow's students in the proper executions of basic rules in exercise and sportsmanship. Carrying out this program calls for excellent leadership and understanding. It remains the purpose of the health department to create better potential citizens by instruction in good health habits and drivers' education. Thus, working together, the health and gym teachers perform their obligations by stimulating interest in developing a pleasing personality.

The industrial arts section, one of the most elaborate in the city, is divided into six separate courses. Woodworking deals with the art of carpentry and furniture making, while foundry and welding highlight the metalworking program. The print shop occupies itself with the school office printing. Electrical classes and multiple-purpose shops offer a more generalized course. Skill in understanding industrial designs is developed in the student through mechanical drawing. The home economics classes acquaint girls with homemaking and family relations—subjects which are of value to everyone.

Books! Books! Books! Books of every color and size, on almost every subject, can be found in the Withrow Library. Shakespeare, Emerson, Poe, Hawthorne, Thurber —all are here to aid and inspire students. Everything from aardvark to zebra is within easy reach of our two librarians, Mrs. Links and Mrs. McDaniel. Here the student finds a quiet spot in which he may study, relax, or read for pleasure. Withrow is also immensely proud of the tremendous job being done by Mrs. Miles, Mr. Yacks, and Mr. Bennington—teachers for students with hearing problems. The work of these teachers will allow our deaf children to lead normal and happy lives.

"Hello, Mom? Guess what! Tom just asked me to go to the dance with him!" Yes, our two telephone booths, which were installed several years ago, are certainly a boon to the teenager. No longer do you have to wait in line for the phone in the outside booth on rainy days. Now you wait in line for the phones inside! Seriously, they do make things much easier for the student who has to call home or a friend. So remember, the next time you are stuck at school without an umbrella when it's raining; there's a telephone at your command.

A blessing and an opportunity are expressions used by many to describe a study-hall. A welcome pause in a hectic schedule, a study-hall provides a period of uninterrupted quiet in which ambitious students can complete their homework assignments or review for a forthcoming test. The atmosphere of silent concentration seems conducive to thoughtful and creative work.

Student Council Promotes Democratic Policies

Officers: B. Derringer, V. Pres.; K. Elder, Pres.; J. Halsted, Treas.; C. Federle, Sec'y.

We, the students of Withrow High School, in order to form a more perfect school, did establish a Student Council. Carried on for the benefit and well-being of Withrow pupils, Student Council has participated in many worthwhile projects. One of the most useful functions of the Student Council, to new pupils, is the Orientation Program. This plan enables students coming from other schools to become better acquainted with the school. Highlighting the year was the Withrow-Woodward dance; all of Council's profit went to the athletic department. At Thanksgiving, baskets of food were given to needy families. Buying uniforms for the basketball cheerleaders and forming the pep club composed the group's other activities. The organization planned Citizenship Week. Able Ken Elder and his dependable cabinet did much to increase Council's power by forcing all clubs to submit their constitutions for final approval.

Many new rules made by the Board of Education concerning the functioning of boys' and girls' social clubs were forwarded this year through the Interfratority Council. The most important changes came about during rushing. Along with its other duties, the council chooses dates for rush parties and sets deadlines on rushing activities. Membership includes both the presidents and vice presidents from each of the social clubs. Jerry Jones presided over the meetings during this year, while Miss Steinmetz and Mr. Renshaw acted as advisers. The Interfratority Council gives each group equal opportunities for advancement by maintaining uniform policies.

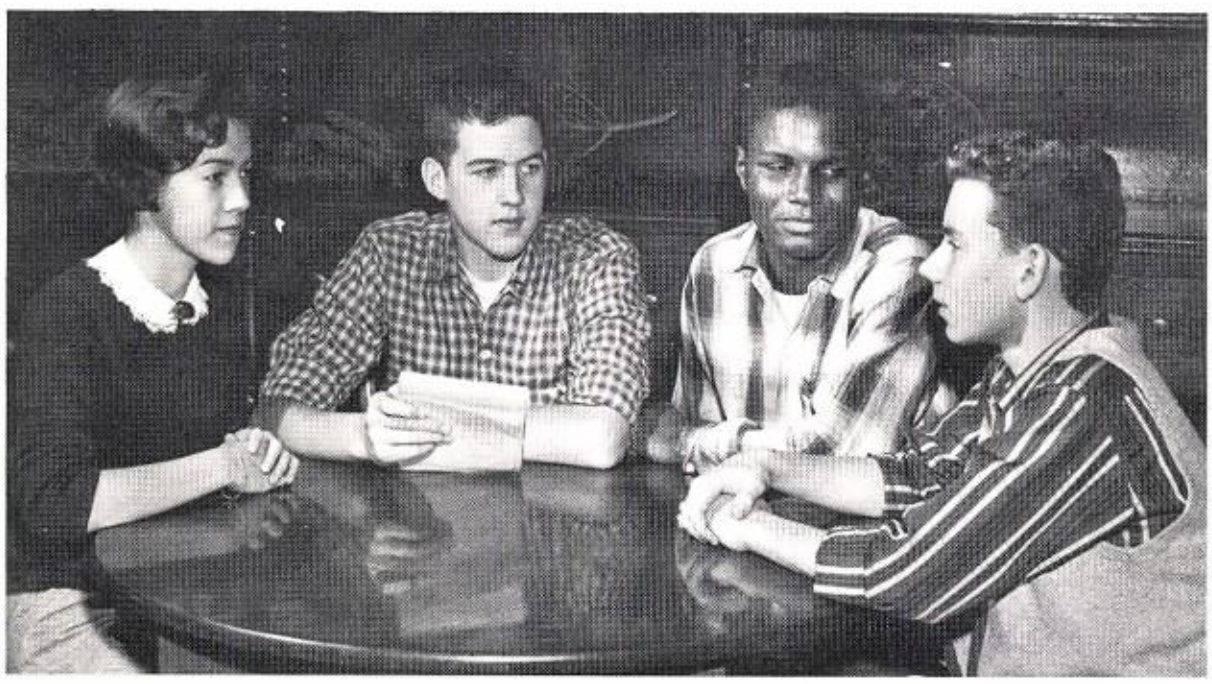
Junior High Student Council Supports Tigertown

G. Skidmore; M. Brooke; R. Alexander; J. Brown



The Junior High Student Council, which has a membership of forty-five, was established four years ago. Under the advisorship of Mr. Darwin Kimble, the Junior Council has inaugurated many new practices such as a new date for officers' election, a copy of Council minutes to be sent to all junior high homerooms, beanies for junior highers, and bake sales. Their main project this year was getting pins for all the members. Mike Brooke, president, presided, while Robert Alexander stood by in case of Mike's absence; Garrie Skidmore duly recorded the minutes and Bonnie Williams kept the treasury in order; the post of Sergeant-at-Arms was filled by Jim Brown, the only eighth grader.

From the notes of the recording secretary come the facts about frequent occasions of a literary club—Scribblers. The notes reveal that the group sold Christmas ornaments with names on them, wrote letters to persons in the home for the aged, as a gesture of thoughtfulness, and held a Shakespearean banquet. Reading further, one discovers that to be an active member a girl must meet grade requirements complying with Student Council regulations. An average of "C" must be kept in all subjects except English and in that the criterion is a "B." All meetings must also be attended. Finally, contributions are read and discussed by members of the group, new officers are chosen, and bracelets are selected. For Scribblers the year has passed; but, aside from the facts, intellectual fellowship has been gained. The speakers and contests have all added to the enjoyment, and the acquired knowledge will be permanently instilled.

Dux Femina Honors The Outstanding Senior Girls

THRILLS! BONNIE'S SISTER MAKES DUX.

Nineteen years ago an honor society was formed for junior and senior girls with outstanding abilities and academic rating. This group of girls was to be called Dux Femina. Its name was taken from a quotation from the "Aeneid," "Dux femina facti," meaning, "A woman was the leader of the deed." Today, just as then, women direct many important activities. Dux members are typical of those who are willing to apply themselves for the sake of achievement rather than for self-recognition. They set their own high standard of quality and take it upon themselves to raise it higher. On Awards Day the years of preparation were culminated for twelve junior girls when they were called for Dux. A poem of tribute, a red carnation, a gold bracelet—all these stand out in a Dux's memory. The shouts of joy echoed back the following year and spurred the girls on to even greater accomplishments. The members sold doughnuts and Withrow bracelets, sponsored an Open House, and cooperated with the Sigs on the Senior Prom. That inner glow reached its peak on Awards Day, when a deserving girl received the Dux Scholarship and twelve more girls realized the cherished goal, Dux Femina!

THE NEW SIGMA GAMMAS WEAR THEIR PINS PROUDLY ON CLASS DAY.

Sigma Gamma, organized in the 1930's, is a group of outstanding Senior boys, respected and admired by the entire student body. The "Sigs" supervise a number of important events during the year, including the annual Tigertown Twirl and the Senior Prom. A small scholarship is given on Awards Day to some deserving boy. Because these activities require the combined efforts of all twelve boys, a great spirit is built up among the group. It is both an honor and a responsibility to be chosen a member of this organization. A boy realizes when he is called that from then on he must set an example of character, scholarship, and spirit. Thus tradition lives on, and the desire to become a "Sig" never dies.

Books, pencils, papers, and cards are all symbols of the bookroom and office helpers. These busy workers are seen in the corridors of Withrow running errands, or in the office, filing cards, as well as selling supplies in the bookroom. The office helpers aid in the secretarial work in order to save valuable time, and run the switchboard, relaying incoming messages. Students standing in a long line, waiting for the doors of the bookroom to open, are a familiar sight. Tablets with the Withrow motto are among the most popular item. In a school as large as Withrow it is essential that everything runs smoothly. The efficiency and accuracy of both the bookroom and office helpers insure such smoothness. Students also feel they are part of a large organization and are willing to work extensively to keep up that organization's tradition. The experience gained will enable them to cope with life.

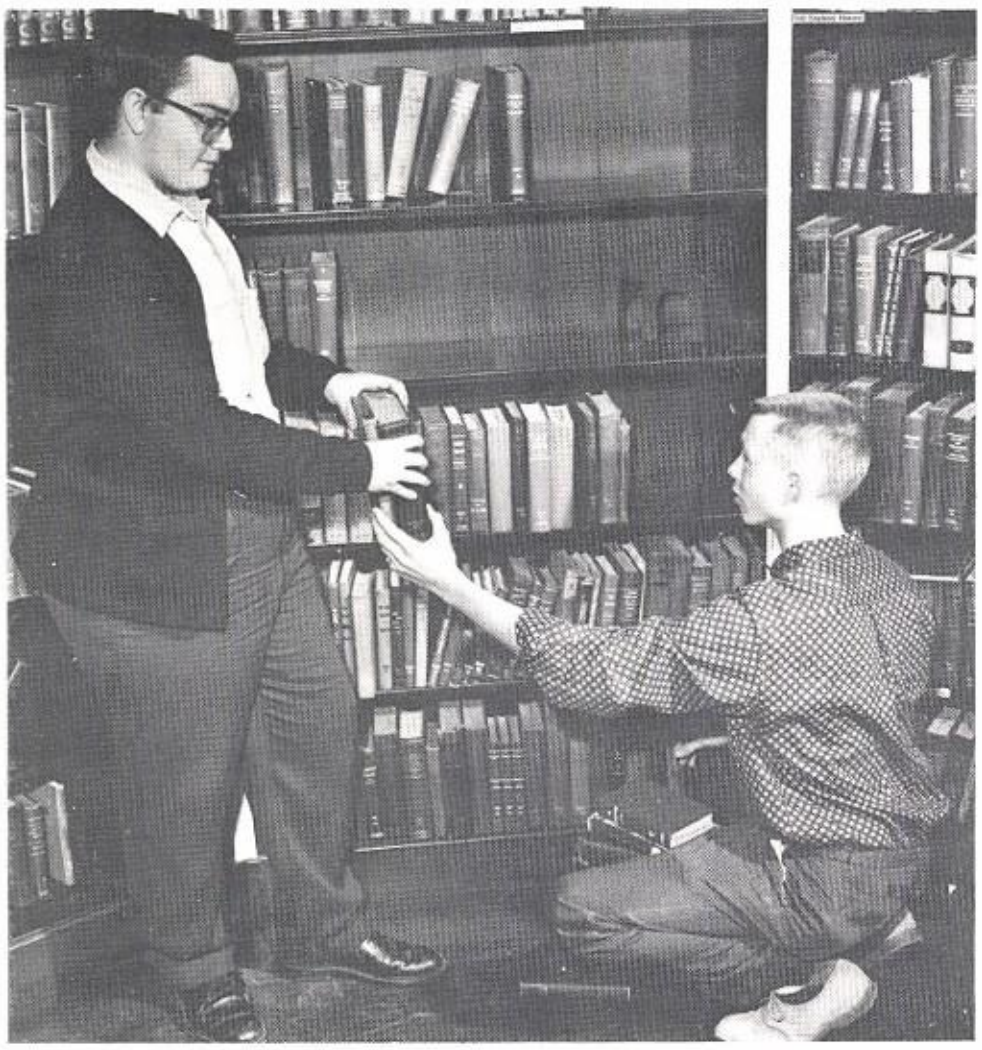
Withrowites Render Valuable Aid To The School

Mr. Knost's lunchroom staff renders an indispensable service to Withrow. The student workers faithfully performed their daily tasks of carrying salads, desserts, and milk to the counters. After cutting pies and cakes and wrapping sandwiches, the girls arranged the articles for selection. Meanwhile, some of the boys transferred the dirty utensils to the conveyor belts for washing, returning all the clean articles to shelves. Both operated the registers.

Did you lose something during the past school year? Chances are it was found and turned in to room 102 by a considerate person. The lost and found department is managed by the office secretaries and is an aid to careless students. Once during each school year, when unclaimed articles accumulate, they are given to the needy through the Good Will Industries. If a student desired to advertise a lost article, the morning bulletin served as a means of communication.

THE LOST AND FOUND, IN 204, CALMS MANY AGITATED SOULS BY RETURNING ITEMS TO THEIR OWNERS.



G. Johnson; B. Kincaid

The student assistants, Dan Montgomery, Glenn Johnson, Mike Santoro, and Kenneth Kincaid, performed numerous tasks to help the library function smoothly. Delivering summonses, and distributing and picking up textbooks were only part of their assigned duties. They spent time shelving books, changing bulletin boards, and occasionally working at the desk inside the library, at the librarian's request. Text and library books can be supplemented by movies and film strips. Every Withrowite owes a great deal of thanks to Mr. Heger and his projection crew. These boys give up their study halls to run visual-aids equipment for many classes. The films not only make a lesson more interesting, but more enjoyable as well. Let's all be grateful for the Withrow projection crew the next time we see a movie in one of our classes.

Junior Achievement Prepares Useful Products

M. Gibson; N. Nau; V. Ray

Junior Achievement is a program in which teen-age boys and girls learn how free, competitive business works, why it is productive, and what part it plays in America's advance to a truly classless society. Achievers form capsule business firms of their own; they learn business by doing business. J.A. companies sell stock to launch their business, buy material for manufacturing, and package and sell their products. They pay the bills and give returns on stock. There are three advisers from various companies to counsel and mainspring the miniature J.A. companies. The chapters are composed of students from high schools all over the city. Throughout the year association meetings are held. Awards are given to achievers at the annual dance.

Art Staff Plans Yearbook

The job of the Art Staff is to plan the Annual. Under the direction of the art adviser, Mr. Viering, and the editors, they plan and make lay-outs, select pictures, assist the photographers, and design the cover. The most important thing in the production of the yearbook is cooperation on the part of the Art Staff. The success or failure of the Annual depends upon the originality and ability of the group. Members of the staff are encouraged to submit ideas for the cover design. Then at a combined meeting, the most appropriate entry is chosen. Gayle Schirmer and Locky Doench headed the '59 staff.

Literary Staff Creates Vivid Word Pictures

The Annual Literary Staff, under the supervision of Mrs. Mildred Ladley, is responsible for all copy in the yearbook. Long after the three o'clock bell, the staff may be seen working studiously to finish the numerous tasks of sorting pictures, writing captions, and arranging names for the student index. Members of the staff must have dual facilities in perfection. They must be able to write with originality and correct mechanics. The proud staff's reward is a completed book.

Literary Editor: Phyllis Beasley

Asst. Editors: Maureen Duval; Beverly Beierle

Nancy Vielhauer, Editor of Advertising Section

Essential to the production of the Annual are the photography staff and the advertising department. The student photographers devoted many hours, during and after school, taking and developing hundreds of pictures. Often they gave up their Sunday afternoons to take these pictures. This staff's co-editors were Dave Gantz and Larry Starkey, assisted by Paul Handel and John Reed. The advertising section was headed by Nancy Vielhauer but consisted of workers from all three staffs. Two new types of ads were adopted this year. One was a $7.50 ad to aid small business. The other was a patron ad that could be purchased by homerooms. Ads are the financial aid necessary for the book's printing. Without the help of these groups, it would be impossible to produce our famed Annual.

Ads And Photos Are A Vital Part Of The Annual

The Business Staff, burdened with the vital task of senior picture appointments and transactions for the Annual, proved successful because of insistence on the strictest accuracy. Money received from the underclassmen pictures was only one of the many ways contrived in order to meet expenses. The net profits from the dance sponsored by Annual, along with the proceeds from the sale of Minstrel try-out tickets, were also used to pay bills. The Business Staff made the provisions possible for the customary installment plan used by the student body in purchasing the yearbook. It was a great satisfaction to Mr. Rhollans and his Business Staff to realize they had succeeded in putting out an Annual of this magnitude without going into debt and in making Withrowites happy by its timely delivery.

Business, Literary, and Art Advisers Oversee

ACCURACY IS MOST IMPORTANT IN MAKING A LAYOUT.

Each year the Annual staffs produce the current yearbook. These students have chosen their own particular theme, planning and arranging the contents of their book according to their own ideas, and tackling the financial problems involved. Advisers should advise, and the faculty members who are behind the three annual teams try to do just that. Mr. Viering of the art, Mrs. Ladley of the literary, and Mr. Rhollans of the business staff, feel confident of the ability of these upperclassmen, and stand ready to help and guide when necessary. The seniors always feel the greatest responsibility and proprietorship, of course, and they and the advisers heave a great sigh of relief when the trucks bearing the final shipment of the Annuals come rumbling up to the entrance. The next crisis is the reaction of the public, meaning those Withrowites who have bought their Annuals. Do they like the cover? the pictures? the copy? Assuming this hurdle is successfully cleared, the final stamp of approval will come later with the press ratings.

Mr. Renshaw and Miss Klappert, Faculty Advisers

T.N. BOSSES READY PAPER FOR WEEKLY DEADLINE.

The administrative staff of Tower News assumes all the responsibility of checking work done before the publication of each issue. Mr. Marvin Renshaw and Miss Monta Klappert, faculty advisers, expect the staff to follow through with assignments without constant supervision. Many after-school hours are spent trying to meet deadlines. Pat Crawford and Jane McCann, editors-in-chief, directed page editors and reporters toward the goal of retaining the All-American rating. Tower News has held this high rating for many consecutive years. Business Manager Kay Ferguson, with the help of her assistants, handled the money end of the publication. Page editors had to lay out columns and headlines, as well as go over every piece of copy to make sure it was perfect.

T. N. Reporters Investigate Newsworthy Events

IRIS GETS THE "INFO" FROM MISS MURPHY FOR ANOTHER EDITORIAL IN TOWER NEWS.

Quill and Scroll, Withrow's honorary journalism society, had a highly successful year in 1959. Organized recently for the betterment of Tower News, it had several money-making enterprises, which not only provided funds for the society's activities, but also proved to be great fun. During the year Quill and Scroll sold flowers at many school dances and collected and counted sales tax stamps. In addition to its many activities in and around Withrow, Quill and Scroll helped organize and initiate a chapter at Hamilton High School. It is commendable that an organization such as this has been added to the list of honorary clubs at Withrow.

This year Senior Choir again enjoyed a very successful season. With Mr. Martin directing and the officers: Jerry Jones, president; John Grafton, vice president; Kay Ferguson, treasurer; and secretaries, Sue Scherer and Jackie DeVore, the choir sponsored a fall mixer at Oak Ridge Lodge in Mount Airy Forest and a party after the Christmas assembly. During the yule season, Madrigal sang for a Knox Church group. Also the choir performed at Fountain Square for the "Put Christ Back In Christmas" program. People were forced to stand at the holiday concert because of a lack of seats. The choir received a rating of I or excellent in the district contest at U. C. On April 13, Colonel White High Choir of Dayton, entertained Withrowites with a musical assembly. Our choir responded by presenting a program in Dayton. A tour of the Wright Patterson Air Force Base highlighted the excursion. As their part in the annual Minstrels, Senior Choir offered a delightful interpretation of the musical, "Oklahoma." As the strains of "We are the Minstreleers" echoed, all hearts were full of memories.

Again this year, the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs and the Junior Choirs, under the leadership of Mr. Martin and Mr. O'Rourke, played an important part in Withrow's musical life. The three again proved themselves superior vocal groups in state and local contests. Performances by the glee clubs included the Thanksgiving program, Christmas and Spring Concerts, and the Minstrels. The Junior Choir appeared in both Spring and Christmas Concerts. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors are eligible to join the glee clubs. Members of Junior Choir receive highly valuable training for future choral organizations, while all understandably derive a great sense of satisfaction from their very fine performances.

FRIENDS, ROMANS, WITHROWITES, ORDER YOUR 1959 ANNUAL.

Assemblies Break The Monotony Of The Day

CHOIR AND BAND COMBINE TALENTS FOR THE CHRISTMAS CONCERT.

Each year pupils pay a small assembly fee of one quarter. This quarter multiplied by the number of students at Withrow provides us with many excellent programs throughout the year. The assemblies provide not only entertainment but also knowledge. Some students and teachers feel that these assemblies are senseless and a waste of class time. Perhaps some of the programs are, but just as many give us tidbits of knowledge or philosophy to ponder. One must not forget the assemblies put on by our own fellow students. During the football season, the cheerleaders pep up our school spirit. Our fine Senior Choir provides us with excellent music in the Christmas and spring programs. This year our Dramatics classes put forth their efforts in the annual presentation. It proved to be quite an engaging morning.

BRASSES TAKE OVER THE COMING CONCERT WHILE THE STRINGS AND WOODWINDS REHEARSE NUMBERS.

High Stepping Strutters Are Vanguards Of Band

Many sounds produced by many instruments, came out of the band room during sixth bell. These pieces are part of the famous Withrow marching band, which provides the fabulous half time marches at Tiger football games. Many of these musicians won honors at the state competition. Under the baton of Mr. George "Smittie" Smith, this same group produces much of the music in the Christmas and spring concerts. Whether in a concert or on the gridiron, the band raises a feeling of intense pride in each of us every time.

Members of the prancing chorus combined beauty with skill to provide many entertaining half time shows at the football games. Leading the band, they added a certain something which has become as much a part of the games as the players themselves. With Wilkie as their leader, they spent many afternoons tediously practicing their complicated routines. This, too, was the second year for our drum major, Gene, who has become a favorite mascot of the Tiger Marching Band. Their final part was the finale of the Minstrels.

Under the able leadership and excellent direction of Mr. George Smith, Withrow has excelled in every facet of its outstanding musical program. Smittie and his capable officers, headed by David Santoro, the band president and student director, shared the responsibilities of managing the one hundred and fourteen members of Senior Band. Practices take place every day either in the band room or on the football field, depending on the weather. The music, which students at Withrow are privileged to hear and enjoy, is a result of the many hours of hard work which these practices entail. Band participated in many activities during the course of the year. Football games, an occasional basketball game, the Christmas and Spring Concerts, the many pep assemblies and perhaps the most important program of the entire 1959 year, Minstrels, gave Withrowites many occasions to be justly proud of the ability of Withrow's music department.

If you happened to walk past room 36 in the junior high building and heard the sound of musical instruments, you could be sure that it was Withrow's Junior High Band practicing. Many rehearsals, besides regular second bell classes, were called by Mr. Donald Lackey, the director, in preparation for their Band Recognition Night appearance at Trechter Stadium. The annual spring concert was another activity which required complete cooperation. Every year members of the ensemble launch a door-to-door candy campaign in order to finance the purchasing of new uniforms and instruments. To become associated with the Senior High Marching Band during the sophomore year is a goal set by each member. We are surely indebted to Mr. Lackey for these well-trained junior musicians.

MINSTRELS

The Withrow Minstrels, Tigertown's annual variety show, was a heralded event. Tryouts for novelty and vocal numbers were held sometime after the close of the first semester. Expert talent was on parade and the judges found it difficult to select students. Members of the pony chorus were decided also. Now that the performers had been determined, what about the crew members who were so necessary for the show's success? This stage crew immediately began work on special lighting effects and impressive backdrops. The make-up committee experimented with new cosmetics; ushers and doormen discussed the proper attire; the incidental art staff arranged pictures of the "stars" for display. Strains of "I Want to be Happy" echoed through the corridors on Wednesday nights during presentation orchestra's practice.

A special Minstrel issue of Tower News was published to afford publicity for the show. Withrowites were assigned to specific communities to circulate these copies. To further promote the Minstrels, "Smittie" originated a plan whereby a student could purchase ten tickets, and receive one free. But the responsibility for the show's success still lay on the shoulders of the cast and crew. The stage crew, costume committee, and make-up group, all combined efforts to fulfill the behind-the-scenes tasks. At last, the performers and the presentation orchestra, practice perfect, were ready for the long awaited opening night.

Prancing feet and smiling faces greeted the 1959 Minstrel's audience. The choir's cheerful voices singing strands of "I Want to be Happy" developed the mood for our spectacular show. Playing an important part in the presentation this year, the choir, male chorus, and ponies accompanied the soloist dancers and singers. The band instrumentalists added color. Hilarities of endmen brought the glow of laughter to the audience. Tears in the eyes of minstreleers expressed their pride as the wonderful thundering of applause rolled across the auditorium during the finale, thus concluding the 29th year of successful productions.

F. H. A. And Chess Club Help Teens In Development

The Future Homemakers of America, an organization to promote the appreciation of the joys and satisfactions of homemaking, successfully completed a year of service, with Margaret Andrew acting as president. At Christmas the club members gave a party for the people at the Old Folk's Home on McMillan Street. At Easter time they performed another benevolent act by sponsoring an egg hunt for the youngsters at the Children's Home. This year's advisers were Mrs. Weiland and Mrs. Holiday.

Withrow's Chess Club became one of the top clubs in the city in 1958-59. At press time the team had the outstanding record of five wins and only two losses. Chess Club meets every Wednesday afternoon in the teachers' lunchroom for a general meeting and practice matches. Inter-school competition is held on Mondays. Anyone is eligible to join, and everyone is invited to attend the meetings. Mr. Rubendunst, Chess Club sponsor, anticipates a very bright future for Withrow's chessmen.

Beta Hi-Y Enriches The Lives Of Young Men

Dave Bean and Jim Skeel, Presidents.

A triangular shaped pin, which symbolizes the growth of Christian citizens, morally as well as socially, is the trademark of the young men of Beta-Gamma Hi-Y. A merger between the two previous Hi-Y's, Beta and Gamma, provided the club with its new, joint name. In affiliation with Williams Y.M.C.A. and under the leadership of Mr. Matthews, faculty adviser, they held their monthly meetings. The gavel was shared by Jim Skeel and Dave Bean. Jim reigned during first semester while Dave presided the remainder of the year. Conducting a sock hop and Easter program and extending a hand to needy folks comprised the year's activities. Though graduation will remove the fellows from the membership roll of the club and from the halls of Withrow, their memory won't be forgotten.

Health Careers Club, directed by Helen Moore and Mrs. Hodory, offers vocational guidance to those girls and boys planning a future in health services. Students interested in such fields as nursing, dentistry, dietetics, and related professions have the privilege of observing modern apparatus at use in today's well equipped laboratories. By the means of tours and volunteer work in the local hospitals the members are given a look forward into the future awaiting them.

Alpha-Y-Teens, a branch of the Y.W.C.A., emphasizes service to the community. The enthusiastic members of the Withrow chapter sponsored many worthwhile projects under the leadership of Carol Smith and Miss Richmond. Selling potato chips and donating the profits to charity and collecting clothing for needy families indicated their ideals of sharing. Seasonal activities and a swimming party at the "Y" added the final ingredients to a fun-filled year.

Perhaps one of the most practical extra-curricular activities at Withrow is the Future Merchandisers Club sponsored by Miss Garnet Gooley. The membership is composed of senior girls who have indicated an interest in the business world. They are willing to apply their desire for commercial knowledge to a job three afternoons per week and all day Saturday. The girls gain valuable information through class assignments, work experience, and contacts with the public. During the year's time, the club contributes time and resources to projects for the underprivileged. These humane efforts help form character for Withrow's women of the future.

Offset Club Prints

All sorts of programs, tickets, handbills, and posters are printed by the members of the Offset Club. Membership is open to all Withrow boys interested in industrial arts. These aspiring printers gained added knowledge in the vocational field as well as the satisfaction of a job well done. Under the instructive guidance of Mr. George Haymond, faculty adviser, these boys spent many busy hours after school, setting type, and running the press. Surely this club provides many indispensable services.

Physics Club Predicts

Physics Club is composed of a group of students who are interested in looking into the mysteries of this captivating science and trying to understand its principles better. Numerous talks at club meetings enlighten many confused students as to how and why things happen as they do. Mr. Smith, the club's adviser, helps them accomplish and establish their purpose by leading them in various experiments, thus solving many questions that are posed by the alert and inquisitive members of the club.

French Club Is Familiar With Typical Customs

"SOME FRENCH BREAD GIRLS?" PERSUADES BAKER ALLEN.

French Club, known as Le Circle Francais, was led by Judy Huston and advised by Miss Schroeder. Meetings are held on the third Wednesday of every month when the members are entertained with interesting programs. Among these have been films, speakers, and a Doctor I.Q. program. The most important meeting of the year is the Christmas party. Entertainment for the party this year was presented by vocalists and dancers. The most original act was a short play entitled "Le Nail de Jean Marc" in which the students displayed their "French" accents. After this amusing program, new members (those who have maintained a "B" average or better in the tongue) were welcomed and refreshments were served. The purpose of French Club is to develop appreciation for the language by studying and enjoying it in an atmosphere of casualness.

Our picture shows Mrs. Nikoloff, our sponsor, saying farewell to the members of German Club as she takes leave of Withrow. LUFTHANSA, the label on her baggage, suggests how she will be spending some of her time after retiring this year. Since its founding in 1946, German Club, Deutsch Verein, has expanded under the able leadership of Mrs. Nikoloff. The group's meetings, held once a month, were presided over by president, Mike McCarthy. A Christmas party and a spring picnic proved to be sources of enjoyment for each member. This year's projects included sending two hundred pounds of food to refugee families of West Berlin. Films of modern West Germany, folk music, and traditional German songs made the meetings something to remember; on many occasions the members of German Club enjoyed pieces played by talented students. At the end of each gathering delicious refreshments were served, adding a final touch of pleasure. Fun and a common interest in German have combined to make this year memorable for Deutsch Verein.

Every third Wednesday of the month, the echo of a gavel rang through the halls outside room 151. Latin Club's consul primira, Sally Frame, brought the meetings to order, with Miss Grove and Mr. Zimmermann, faculty advisers, giving their approval. The informality and ease with which the meetings were handled made everyone feel a part of the group. Latin Club was formed in 1931 and is now in its twenty-eighth year. Founded with the intention of instilling an appreciation of Latin, Gens Togata also provides amusement. Each Latin class elects an "aedile" or reporter who relates the happenings of the monthly meetings. The events of the year are brought to a conclusion in June, when a banquet is sponsored for all the members of Gens Togata. The crowning of the new consul primira and the hilarious stage play are the highlights of an enjoyable evening.

Spanish Club Is Stimulating

"Buenas Dias! Como esta usted?" Many a meeting of Spanish Club starts off with someone saying, "Good day! How are you?" The club, sponsored by versatile teachers Miss Miceli and Mrs. Jones, gave high average students extra experience in using the language. One of the goals achieved by the club was the obtaining of a phonograph for the department to use. In the teacher's lunchroom, Spanish Club held its Fiesta de Navidad, or Christmas party. While refreshments were served, the members sang carols. Patsy Hawkins, conscientious president, directed the group through another successful year as an extra-curricular organization.

Future Teachers Band Together

We are indeed fortunate to have activities that will be a springboard to our chosen vocations. Such a representative activity is the Future Teachers of America Club, or more simply, FTA. Students who are interested in teaching as a career find that this club gives them the information they want to know before entering this profession. Talks and interviews with teachers and representatives from teachers' colleges interest and inform the members. Under the auspices of Mr. Wilkinson, the club had many activities, ranging from a tea for new members to making stockings for hospital patients at Christmas. In the spring FTA held a commemoration tea for Withrow's retired instructors.

To many girls at Withrow the Chorean Dance Club, which is a sub-division of the Girls' Athletic Association, is an important after-school activity. The girls learn many of the interpretations of the modern dance, which help them develop grace and poise. This year, they met every Thursday afternoon under the leadership and guidance of their president, Gayle Shirmer, and adviser, Miss Barnes. Each year these girls meet with the members of the other dance clubs in the public school system and participate in a symposium. During this symposium a professional teacher advises the girls in the intricacies of the modern dances. Early in the year tryouts are held to secure new talent.

MISS ROSENBERGER—DRAMATICS!

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT, SO THEY SAY—BUT ALL THE WORK!

The dramatics and speech classes provided Withrow with entertainment this year. The homeroom programs were enlivened by the skits and the debates. Sue Scherer and Frank Morin, from the public speaking classes, represented Withrow at Girls' Week and Boys' Week, Sue being elected vice mayor. With Miss Rosenberger in charge, the class time is devoted to improving diction and studying the correct pronunciation of words. Daily assignments vary from interpreting poems or plays and performing impromptu pantomimes to doing comedy sketches and making speeches. From these productions come some of the materials which furnish the background for the satirical Minstrel skits.

"OOH, WHAT A MESS!"—THALIAN CLUB'S INITIATION.

Once a month, on Tuesday afternoons, Thalian Club members prepared various dramatic projects for the year's busy schedule. Tryouts for new members took place in the fall and again in the spring. Applicants were judged on memorization of lines, voice projection, and expressive quality. The old members arranged an initiation for the new group before they were accepted as members. Faculty adviser, Miss Marjorie Rosenberger, and Thalian President, Frank Morin, guided activities throughout the school year. Planning pep assemblies and the Christmas program at Findlay Street Neighborhood House took up much of the first semester's time. Work on Minstrel skits began immediately after Christmas.

The Withrow Chapter of the Clionian History Club has succeeded in completing many fine projects this year. Under Miss Monica Caveman's advisorship, president Jim Skeel, with the able assistance of Nancy Edwards, vice president, Keith Michael, treasurer, Carol Smith and Virginia Neal, the corresponding and recording secretary, respectively, carried out a season filled with useful knowledge and group fun. Any student with at least a "B" average in history through the second semester is eligible to join the club and enter the various activities offered, such as lectures by prominent figures from the United States and abroad, trips to the Natural History Museum, and meetings with other history clubs throughout the city. Another feature of History Club is its participation in the activities of the Junior Council on World Affairs, to which each History Club member belongs. On the third Wednesday of each month these members then meet to plan and execute the many projects mentioned.

Members of the social club, Zeta Beta Kappa, belong to one of Withrow's many groups on campus. The agenda of activities includes hayrides, bake sales, coke and slumber parties, gab fests, and after school snacks. These experiences bring the girls closer together in the participation of fun and fellowship. During the Christmas season the Z.B.K.'s had their annual holiday formal. These girls in the true Yuletide manner helped a needy family by furnishing them with food, clothing, and toys. Another one of their many projects was donating helpful services to the Veterans Administration Hospital as nurses' aids; while Easter brought fond memories of selling candy. Radiant and lovely, Z.B.K.'s fulfilled a very active year with their spring formal.

Practiced often by the Theta Omega Chi girls is their motto, "In unity there is strength." Working together to provide the Children's Hospital with gifts and songs during the Christmas holidays afforded them much pleasure. An unfortunate family attracted their attention at Thanksgiving. All members looked forward to the yearly Mother and Daughter Banquet held in the spring. Climaxing the year is the "Summer Formal" held in June. The sorority was organized in 1957, independent of other schools. It has helped to bind many girls with common interests together and has promoted relations between mother and daughter.

TALLY-HO GIRLS DISCUSS PREPARATIONS FOR TWIN TWINKLE.

As the year of 1959 comes to a close, the Tally-Ho's look back over their many delightful activities. They were the same traditional events, and yet, they were new and different. In the fall, rushing brought new acquaintances which developed into lasting friendships. As the holidays approached, thoughts turned to the Christmas formal and rousing New Year's Eve party. Although busy with plans for Twin Twinkle, members found time to hold the biennial Alumnae Tea, where memories galore were shared by members, old and new. The Inter-Sorority Scholarship Fund and Home of the Incurables were the year's charity projects. At the Mother-Daughter banquet the new officers were installed and seniors, between smiles and tears, wished them luck. For those who will graduate, there are heartfelt memories of fun with friends; for the members, there are promising years ahead.

KYTYVES GIRLS CHERISH SISTERHOOD.

Kytyves, organized in 1932, has given its members—past and present—a deeper understanding of loyalty and sisterhood. Among its primary activities were rush parties, date parties, several bake sales, and slumber parties. The social highlights of the year were the spring and Christmas formals at Moonlight Gardens and the Netherland Hilton, respectively. Their annual school dance, the "Wigwam Wiggle," drew a large crowd. Door prizes were awarded at the dance to Cecelia Petrocelli and Larry Lobring by a couple of little Indians. Social acts, however, were not all the kytyves members did. They helped needy families at Thanksgiving and Christmas; they sold lilies at Easter and observed Mothers' Day with a Mother and Daughter banquet where each member's mother was made an honored guest. Planning their many activities for 1959, members in Kytyves were kept busy all through the year. The girls worked together to make sure their projects were successful. Cooperation like this has made it worthwhile to the members.

At the sound of president Ann Damon's gavel, BOX members gave their full attention to the points of business during a regular bi-weekly meeting. As they gazed over the room, filled with loyal sisters, pleasant thoughts of the past year of togetherness crowded into their minds. The year started off with rush parties, and then the fun of pledging followed. Never will they forget the impressiveness of the formal initiation, the dreamy formals, and fun-filled date parties. This past year the girls, among other things, were recognized for their high scholastic rating and for helping families that were in need.

"XMAS CANDY?" POSE A.T.A.'S.

During the gala season of holly, a Christmas formal was Alpha Theta Alpha's biggest event of the year. Combining efforts for their rummage sale in April, the girls worked hard to make it the success it was. Other highlights of the year were the rush parties, dances and projects to help persons in need. Being a small sorority does in no way handicap Alpha Theta Alpha, rather the closeness and friendliness are enhanced by its smallness. The book of remembrances will be stored away in the minds of each girl as the pictures and the impressions for '59 are completed. Only from the myriad pages of time will the results be evident and only in their own hearts will each girl evaluate her years at Withrow.

The dictionary states that Altruism means the regard for, and devotion to, others. This attitude typifies the forty-eight members of Altruist who help needy people by giving baskets of food, taking trips to the Home for the Incurables, and sending younger boys to camp. A strong bond of sisterhood prevailed as AXD's enjoyed their formals, stag parties, and two old clothes parties. Withrow's first soc-hop—"The Bohemian Bop," was given by Altruist and Tri Chi. Group projects included bake sales, rummage sales, an open house, and a tax stamp drive. Fun reigned at Lakeside when the Altruists arrived for a week of merriment. These memories make Altruist unforgettable.

To each girl who wears the Alpha Betta Kappa shield upon her heart, the colors of silver and rose signify trust, harmony, and the bonded depth of sisterhood. Wesley Hall, home for the aged, is visited annually by A.B.K. The girls entertain the residents and refreshments are served. Small articles are given by the group. During football season A.B.K. holds their traditional Gridiron Gallivant dance where the most deserving senior varsity player is crowned "Joe Gridiron." As loyal members look back at another successful year, thoughts of the fall rummage sale, rush meetings, pledging, and the Christmas formal, fill their hearts with contentment. An informal date party and the installation-of-officers' dinner at the spring formal occurred during second semester. A.B.K. offers the joy of friendship through devotion of their members.

One of the outstanding fraternal organizations, Tau Sigma, had many worthwhile projects. Original ideas for parties highlighted the fall rush season while other activities filled out the year. A New Year's Eve party was held on the Johnson's Party Boat. The sale of "Names 'n' Numbers" in February was a heralded event. The books have the names, addresses, and phone numbers of social club members. Stripes and buckles were the apparel in March when T.S. presented the annual Ivy League Leap at which a king and queen were crowned. Backed up by an efficient Mother's Club, Tau Sig maintained its high social and charitable standards.

Kappa Tau Kappa started the school year with the rushing, pledging, and initiation of new members. Their annual Christmas formal was held this year at the Hotel Alms with Kay Ferguson reigning as "Kappa Sweetheart." Preparations for Beard Brawl, a contest and a dance, kept everyone in a hubbub for days. Date and stag parties filled the year with activity for the boys. An all day picnic climaxed the year with the reading of the last will and testament of the members. A mixture of unity and charity dominated Kappa character.

During last summer, the fraternity Delta Sig merged with a club at New Woodward High School called Phi Beta Gamma. Here at Withrow, Phi Beta has had a very enjoyable and charitable year. The members collected a basket of toys to give away at Easter. In order to raise funds, the Phi Betas set up car washes, a bake sale in the main hall of school, and a rummage sale, articles for which the members themselves collected. After making so much money, the frat was faced with the task of spending some of it. Date parties seemed to solve the problem as well as provide enjoyment. As a rather small social organization, Phi Beta Gamma has been a fraternity with close fellowship among its members. Each boy, during some part of the year, had his chance to hold an office in the club. Giving members a sense of responsibility in the fraternity in this manner worked out very well for the Phi Betas. Under the presidency of Dick Motzer and Dale Mallot, they learned true brotherhood and cooperation.

CHI SIGS EXPLORE THE ARCHING BRIDGE.

Chi Sigma Chi began an eventful year with an open house at Bob Matthews; Withrowites clambered to Besuden Court to discuss the football game and to enjoy the main attraction—a jazz combo. During Christmas, the frat joined with BOX to present a holiday formal at Kenwood Country Club, with Cliff Lash's band supplying the music. A date party with Kappa and two activities with BOX satisfied everyone and highlighted Chi Sig's social season. In February members traveled to Newtown to help victims of the disastrous flood clean their homes. Working under the auspices of the Junior Red Cross, Chi Sig performed a valuable service to the community. Spring found the fraternity busily making plans for the banquet in May at Moonlight Gardens —a fitting climax to a fun-filled year. Whether projects or parties were on the Chi Sig agenda, unity, through cooperation and fellowship, prevailed.

As in every year since its organization in 1944, the Alpha Chapter of Tri Chi had a thoroughly successful and enjoyable year. A Christmas formal, held in the ballroom of the Hotel Sinton, and a dance in April, in which the fraternity combined with Altruist, highlighted the XXX social season. Athletic-minded members captured the Interfraternity Sports Championship cup for the second year in a row. The fraternity's strictly enforced code of ethics rules out all drinking and smoking whatsoever. Tri Chi's firmly believe that such a code is necessary to build a strong character. Numerous fund-raising enterprises helped in financing the year's many activities.

Enthusiasm is high. Excitement soars and the crisp air adds to the tense atmosphere of—a football game. Withrow's team, captained by Dave Bean, was no exception because fine spirit never failed to thrill spectators. Sportsmanship determined the rules, and winning or losing seemed of lesser importance. Even in the keen competition the ideal of sportsmanship prevailed. Although lacking in experience, the team personified this spirit, making it outstanding. From the hard work and from the teamwork came a lesson, deeply impressing all lives. The experience gained will be an asset. Now that the games are over, the last thrilling dash for a touchdown, the tackle placed exactly right, the exuberant shouts, and the disappointed sighs are gone. Memories alone form the football picture for "59."

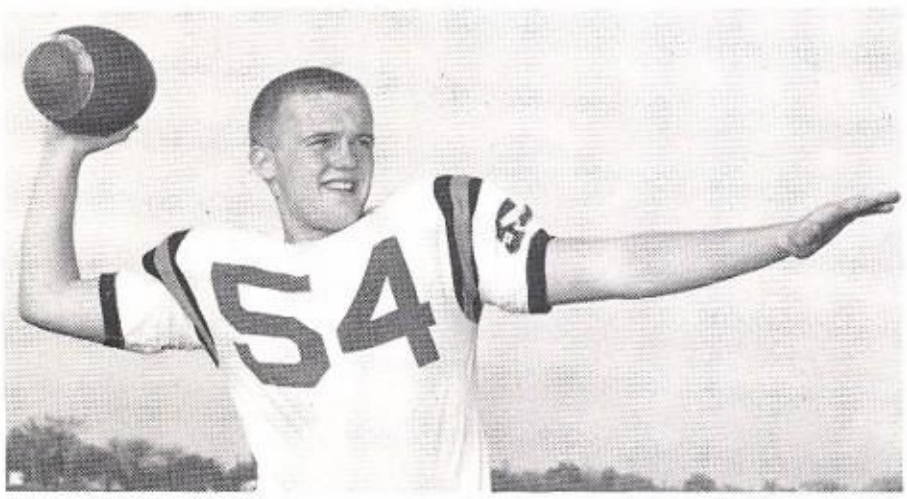
Senior Lettermen



GEORGE HAYWARD

Without a strong foundation as a beginning, a team cannot withstand constant pressure. At the close of each football season, varsity letters are awarded to boys who have proved themselves part of this foundation around which a team is built. In order to qualify for a letter, a boy must play twenty-one quarters and meet the requirements of the coaches. The players are judged on personal ability plus their attitude and attendance. In the coaches' estimation, fourteen members of the 1958 team were deserving of this award. Each year the sportswriters choose an All-City Team which is comprised of the top boys from all schools. Our letterman, Harold Stewart, received a halfback honorable mention.

The Season Opens

Trecter Stadium was filled to capacity with students, all anxiously awaiting the action at Pigskin Preview. To open each football season, every school presents its Preview Queen. Our President of G.A.A., Joyce Bley, participated in the drawing for Withrow. Although disappointingly beaten by Central in the first game, the Tigers rallied to defeat Woodward 6-0 in the second, thus showing promise of a good season. Without doubt the bright star on the field was Harold Stewart, who scored Withrow's touchdown by receiving Cunningham's pass.

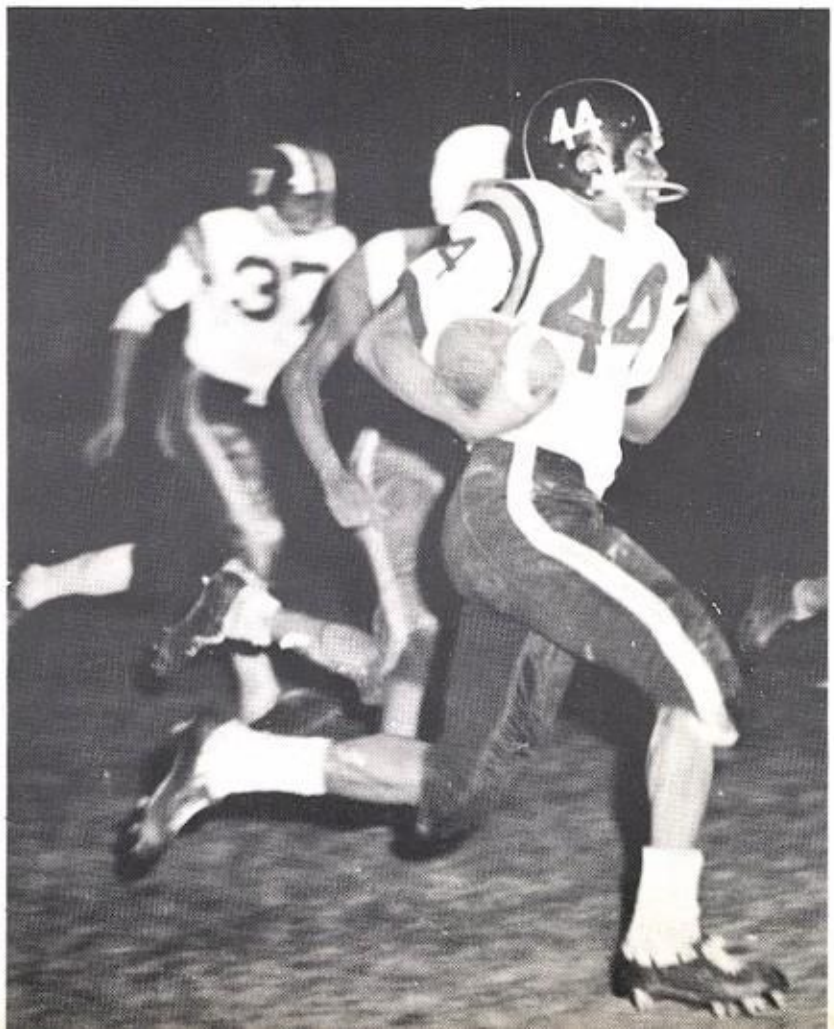
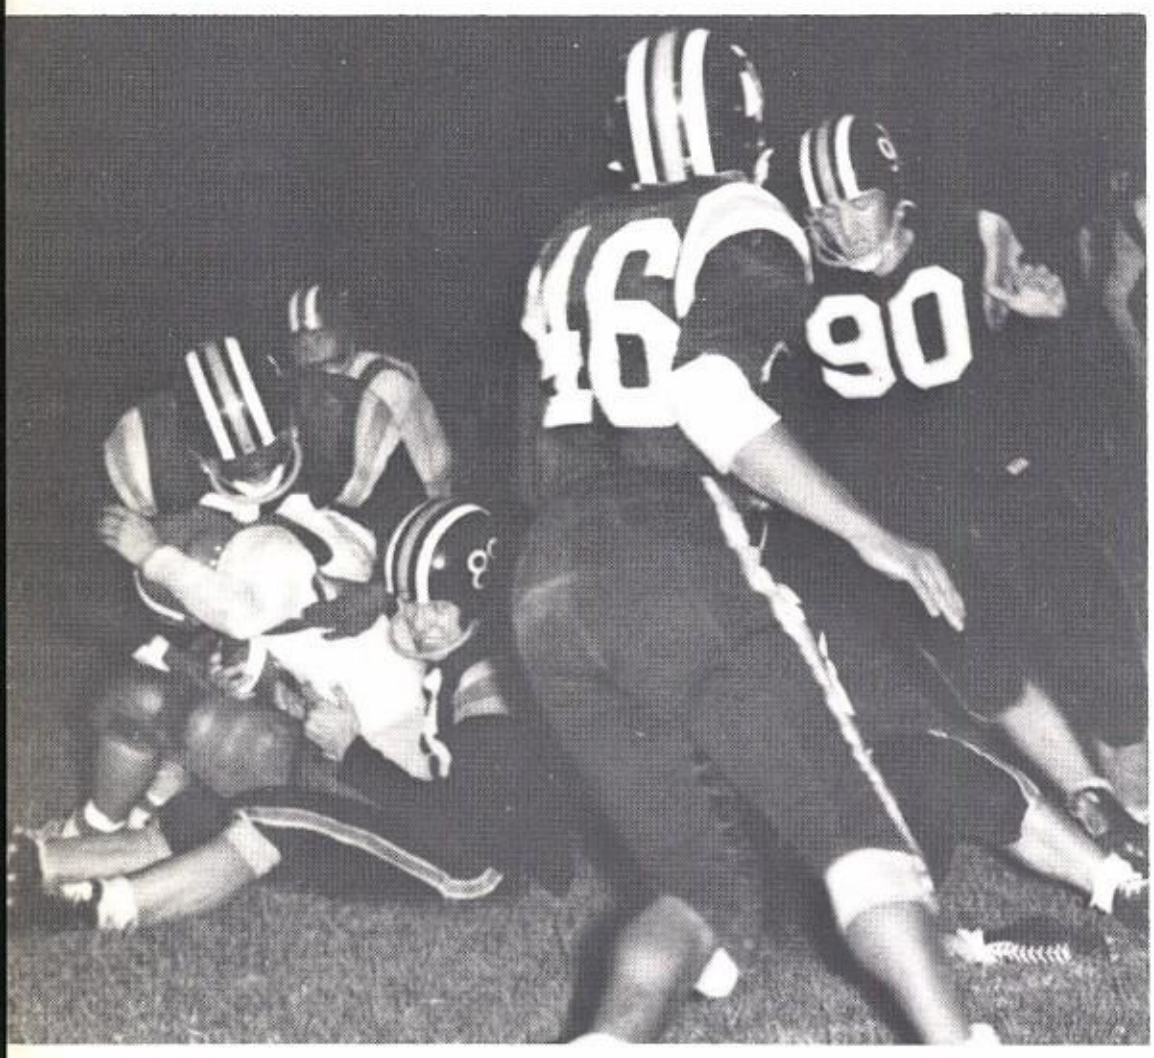
A TENSE MOMENT—AN AGILE OPPONENT STRUGGLES TO GAIN NEEDED YARDAGE FOR A TOUCHDOWN.

Tigers Down Eagles 32-6

Withrow won the first game of the season, 32 to 6, against the Milford Eagles on the Eagles' field. Soon after the kickoff, left halfback Tate raced fifty yards for Withrow's first touchdown. Before the quarter ended, Stewart ran thirty yards to hit paydirt. Having taken the ball early in the second quarter, the Eagles' Ventus sprinted twenty-eight yards for Milford's only marker. Halftime score was 18 to 6. When the Tigers failed to obtain a first down, Milford took the ball on its thirty-three yard line. After making two first downs, the Eagles were forced to punt. Halfback Conner took the punt on the thirteen and sprinted across Milford territory for an eighty-seven yard touchdown. Cunningham's long pass to Stewart gave Withrow a first down. Two more plays brought the ball to the Eagles' eleven. On the next play Conner was over for the Tigers' final touchdown. Milford received the kick on its twenty-seven, advanced the ball four yards in three plays, then passed for a first down. Recovering Withrow's fumble, Milford advanced the ball to the fifteen when the game ended.

HEAVY BLOCKING HELPS STEWART TO SCORE.





TIGERS DOWN A BOMBER TO PREVENT FIRST DOWN.

For the fifth consecutive year the Bombers of St. Xavier managed to put down the Tigers in the night game at Roger Bacon Stadium. Perfect weather prevailed, but the Tigers' offense could not get their powerful machine rolling. The Bombers' fullback, Kollmann, scored from the three yard line early in the first quarter, with the halfback Froelke adding the extra two with a dive. The remainder was then spent in a defensive battle with neither team scoring. Midway in the second quarter, quarterback Meyers released a near perfect pass into the arms of the left end, Boyle, making the score 14 to 0 when Xavier failed to make the extra point. The Tigers threatened twice with sustaining drives, but the team just was not able to click as a unit. Withrow had possession for nearly the entire time throughout the third period with both aerial and ground attacks. However, the alert defensive play by the Bombers held the Tigers from paydirt. Taking over again in the fourth period, the Tigers held the ball; and, with the aid of Tate and Kleinschmidt, drove seventy-six yards for the score. Due to a fumble in the backfield, the extra tally was missed and the score remained 14 to 6 in favor of the Bombers of Xavier as the final gun was sounded.

Rain Soaks Elder Game

Despite the drizzle, slippery turf, and, of course, those inevitable fumbles, the Panthers tamed the Tigers, 26 to 8, in the nightcap at Elder Stadium. Elder began to drive across Withrow territory after receiving the kickoff. Quarterback Fiorino's long pass was intercepted by the Tigers' Stewart on the twenty-two yard line. Stewart, Conner, and Kleinschmidt, the principal ball carriers, brought the ball to the Panthers' forty-four. Withrow's fumble gave the pigskin to Elder shortly before the end of the quarter. The Panther attack was fierce in the second quarter with two touchdowns and Tiger quarterback Selbert's fractured ankle. The first marker was a seventeen yard run; the second tally, a short pass to halfback Lagaly in the end zone. Again in the third, the Panthers romped across the field. Taking the Tigers' punt on the thirty-two, the deceiving Fiorino made a twenty yard runback. Elder advanced the ball in several plays for two first downs. Teammate Bedinghaus ran nine yards to the goal. Small but competent Jerry Cunningham then passed to Stewart, who sprinted thirty-five yards for Withrow's lone touchdown; Stewart ran to make the conversion. The Panther strategy used plenty of aerial action to supplement the potent ground barrage, a truly successful combination.

Bengals Beat Bulldogs 22-0

Withrow opened P.H.S.L. competition with a win over Woodward, 22-0. Throughout the game, Withrow held the Bulldogs from beyond its twenty-yard line. All plays consisted of runs except for one pass in the fourth quarter from Feldhaus to Stewart. After several advances and retreats on Woodward's part, the Tigers were stopped on the forty-yard line and forced to punt. Withrow soon found it necessary to punt also. Finally, on its twenty-three yard line, Withrow took over and Tate ran seventy yards for Withrow's first touchdown. Starting off the second half, the Tiger kick went almost to the end zone where the Bulldogs took it but were soon pushed back by two penalties. Woodward's Bob Shilling was knocked back to make a two point safety for Withrow; Kleinschmidt and Stewart completed a series of runs to again score for the Tigers. In the last quarter, Feldhaus completed a pass to Stewart to gain yardage; Kleinschmidt then ran to score. Starks ran for the extra point. This game tallied us the second victory of the season.

Reds Wallop Tigers

After an inspiring victory over Woodward, Withrow was trampled by the Big Reds, 29 to 0, in a highly penalized game. Twice the Tigers just missed their chance to score. The Black and Orange came within one yard of a goal and fumbled in the first frame; Hughes recovered. In the fourth quarter a penalty for offsides made Tate's seventy yard run no good. Larry Hughes ran in the second for Hughes' goal. At the kickoff the Big Red plunged through with an end sweep to up the score, 14 to 0. Stewart made a twenty yard dash and Starks ran it up seven yards, but penalties pushed the Tigers back. In the last period Withrow's Starks took the ball twenty-five yards from the thirty. A fumble gave Larry Hughes his chance to make his third touchdown. An intercepted pass let the Big Reds score again in the last quarter. With so many returning lettermen, such as Peters and Parthenakis, on the opposing team, the Tigers found it hard to gain headway.

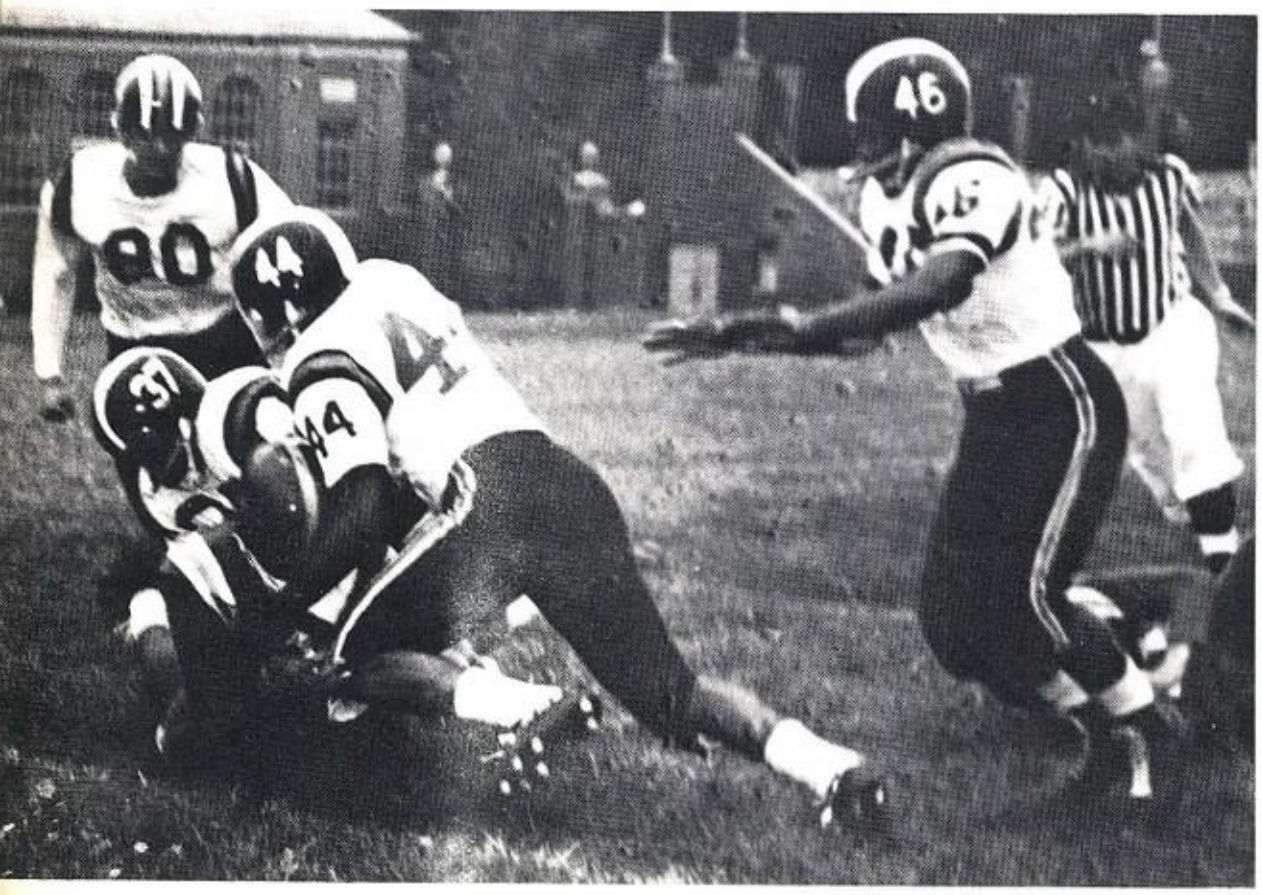
Eagles Prove Victorious in Afternoon Encounter

FOUR TIGERS THWART THE WALNUTS' PLANS FOR VICTORY.



Withrow, with one P.H.S.L. win and one loss under its belt, entered the traditional afternoon encounter with its old rival, Walnut Hills. In the first quarter the Tigers, seemingly plagued by a jinx, committed two capital errors which put the Eagles in scoring position. Simpson crossed the line and, the conversion being bad, the scoreboard showed six to nothing in favor of the Eagles. The remainder of the period was spent in a defensive struggle for the Tigers with neither gaining ground. A stalemate existed throughout the second and midway through the third quarters. Then the Eagles finally managed to get Thompson out of the line and in position to snag one of Brown's aerials. With the extra two being made, the score stood in the Eagles' favor. Withrow showed life too late in the fourth period and was defeated 14 to 0.

The Roger Bacon game was a substitute for the discontinued Purcell classic. The Brown and Creams' first touchdown came on a fantastic ninety yard run by Haupt. They quickly followed this up with two extra points. Bacon added three more markers during the first quarter, for a total of 30 points. A determined Spartan team kept the Tigers from getting past the Bacon thirty yard line. The second quarter passed with neither team scoring. The third period saw Roger Bacon tally once more on a thirty yard pass followed by a twenty-five yard run. The score going into the fourth quarter stood at 38 to O. Though the varsity fought to the best of their ability, they were unable to prevent the Spartans from making two more T.D.'s. The final tally: 46-0.

Withrow Ties Taft

TAFT'S DEFENSE HALTS OUR MAN.

The Annual Homecoming Game attracted many students and alumni to the afternoon contest at Withrow as the victory-starved Tigers battled to a 14 to 14 tie against the Taft Senators. Besides the grid action, there was plenty of color and excitement, including the customary procession of cars publicizing the king and queen candidates. Both teams fought savagely for the ball in the first quarter, though neither scored. Early in the second period, the Tigers' Elam passed to Stewart who dashed thirty yards to paydirt. The Senators' Morton starred by making three successive first downs. Taft scored and completed a conversion for eight to Withrow's six. Having recovered the Tigers' backfield fumble, Taft lost the ball on the next play by Conner's recovering for Withrow. Midway in the fourth quarter, Taft developed a surge of fury and drove for a marker. Quarterback Elam dropped back and threw to Haynes with two and a half minutes remaining. Joel raced thirty-five yards to the goal. Withrow's Stewart gained the extra two by a run. With the score now tied, both sides unsuccessfully tried to gain the needed points.

A FIGHT FOR THE BALL ENDS IN A MASS PILE-UP.

The west side eleven blanked their eastern counterparts, 60 to 6, in the most lopsided game this season. Western Hills used an almost impenetrable defensive line coupled with a blitzkrieg of fast runners, effective blocking and aerial bombardment. In the first half, Moore, Griesser, and Schott scored for the Mustangs; McMullen hauled down a pass from Griesser for six more. Meanwhile the Tigers tried to catch up by attempting long passes but to no avail. Despite penalties, the Mustangs tallied twice in the third. West Hi's Jake Schott scored on a spectacular fifty-seven yard end sweep. Late in the game, the Tigers enlisted many reserves to repel the Mustang offense. Sophomore Bruce Burton snagged Elam's pass in the end zone for Withrow's only touchdown. Withrow failed to halt the Mustang drive as they compiled more goals to make the sixty points.

ALL MEN ABOARD FOR A PIGGY BACK RIDE!

This game will be remembered not only for the cold crisp weather and the traditional presentation of mums to the senior girl band members, but also for that exciting argument between the two coaches and referees. Early in the game the Tigers drove across the field, Tate being the principal ball carrier. Central gained possession when we were forced to punt. Behind the power of Heard and Castleberry, they compiled four first downs, a touchdown, and the two extra points. In the second quarter the red flags dropped heavily for both teams. Central, penalized once for illegal blocking and twice for illegal procedure, finally lost the ball by fumbling. A pass from Elam to James gave Withrow temporary hope but the Tigers were forced to yield by punting. The Knights took Northcutt's punt on their thirty-one, advanced the ball to the Tigers' one, and lost it by downs. Action ran high in the fourth when Tom James ran forty-two yards and Tate hit pay-dirt, but we failed to gain the needed two points to tie, as the '59 season closed.

Reserve Football

Withrow's reserve football team, this year coached by Mr. Jurkiewicz, had only a mediocre record, despite the constant drive and initiative shown by its members. The reserves, this year, were sparked on offense by halfback James; quarterback Smith; Halscott, center; and Ritchie, fullback. While on the defensive, Lague, end; guards, Gibbons and Delaney; and defensive center, Northcutt kept the team on the move. Every member of the team was ready to do his best to bring fame and honor to his school. Afternoon workouts and constant training kept the team in top shape in respect to passing, kicking, and running, while careful planning helped to perfect plays. Toward the end of the season, when many players were out with injuries, reserve members were frequently substituted in varsity games.

Sporting a fair record of two third places and one fourth in the three league encounters, the Withrow harriers were rated a solid third in the final P.H.S.L. listings. Of the twenty-six schools qualifying for the state cross-country meet, the Tiger two-milers paced fifteenth, thus bringing another successful season to a close. By copping high honors in all the races in which he competed, Carl Ingram, sophomore sprinter, brought visions of future victories. Coach Huheey's Tigers paced third in the district meet as Alonzo Vincent finally overtook teammate Ingram, after following closely on his heels throughout the fall season.

Withrow's varsity basketball team improved greatly as the season progressed. Coached by Mr. Huheey, the team brought many tense moments to the basketball spectators. The first string starters were Tom Arnold, Joby Haynes, Dick Burdick, Bill Tate, and Rog Kendall (who also served as captain). Haynes finished the season as the highest scorer in the city with a 22.9 point average per game. He also broke the high school record of 32 points in a single game by scoring 35 points in the Hughes game. The capable team was supported by an excellent second and third string.

Central's Knights clinched the P.H.S.L. Basketball League Championship by a landslide defeat over our ailing Tigers. Knost sent the tip to awaiting teammates to start the fast paced game. The ball was stolen by the high-rated Knights before either Haynes, Cowperthwaite, Kendall, or Ritchie had a chance to make a basket. In the first quarter, Tigers became further handicapped when Kendall twisted his ankle on a return from an out-of-bounds play. At the end of the first half, the score was 59-35, the Tigers dragging far behind the red-hot Knights. With the comfortable 24 point lead, Central relaxed their tight play when the game resumed; but the Tigers fought to make a comeback. After tense forwards made several errors, the score ended 97-63.

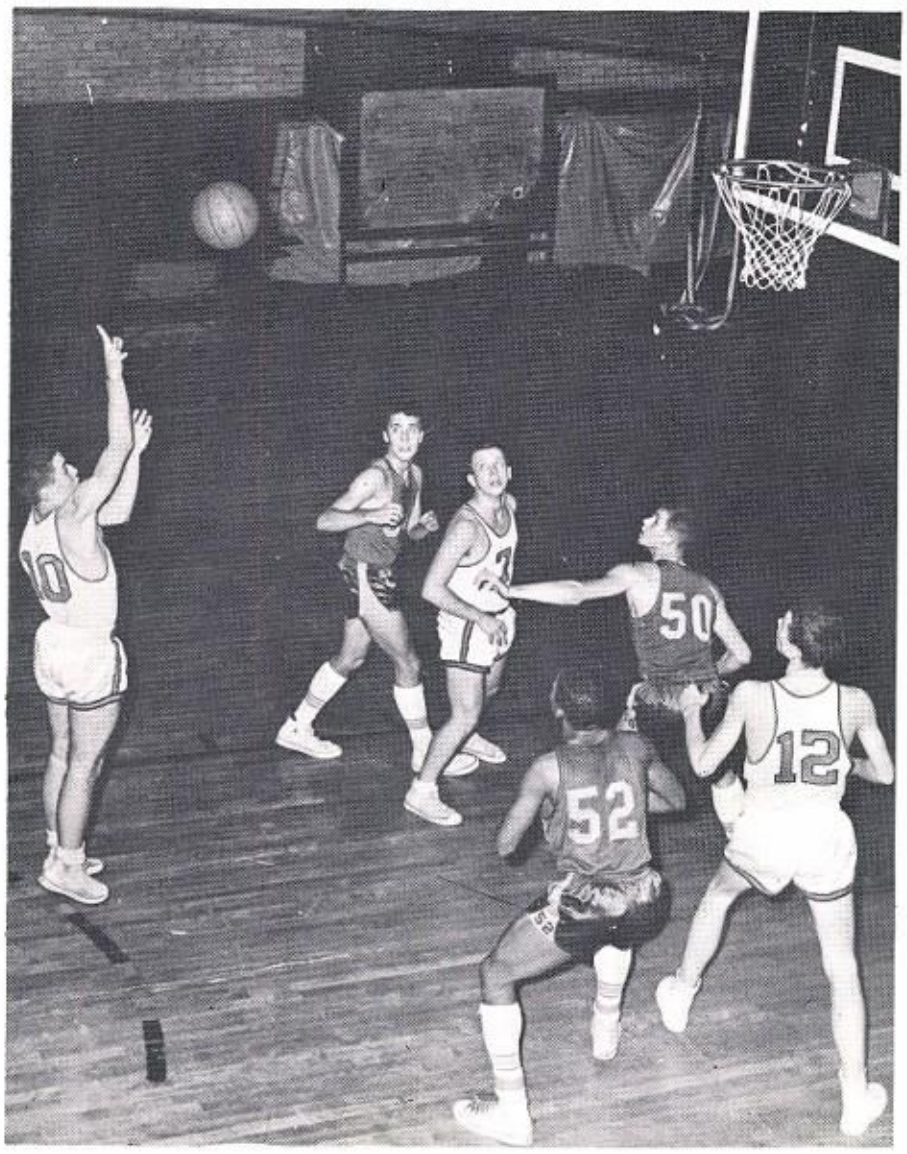
Reserve Basketball

EXPECTANT TIGER EYES FOLLOW THE BALL'S PATH.



"Basket, basket, basket boys, you make the baskets, we'll make the noise!" enthusiastic students shout during a regular reserve basketball game. In the important league games Withrow won, or came close to winning, all the contests except those with the Central Knights. Experienced juniors, Bond Elam, Jack Cunningham, Dave Ross, and Roger Steubing were aided by a robust bench predominated by sophomores. High man on the team was forward Ritchie with a 13.9 points per game average. The squad was ably coached by Mr. Rolfes. One reason for the mediocre showing was that many of last year's players failed to come out. Some of the best reserves were moved up to the varsity. Naturally attendance was poor, for the reserve games never seem to have the drawing that varsity games have. Nevertheless, these are important because they are a link in the chain of Withrow's sports.

Undefeated Freshman Sweep All Of Cincinnati

For the first time in eighteen years, the freshman cagers of Withrow remained undefeated and untied. In continuing their domination of the ninth grade circuit, the tiny Tigers won twelve games and lost none. Averaging nineteen points per game to lead the Tigers in the scoring column was Charlie Orr. Under the watchful eye of ex-Tiger Wilbur Ernst, other hoopsters merited mention. Starters were Orr and West, forwards, Coaster at center, and Reece and Ferone, filling the coveted guard positions.

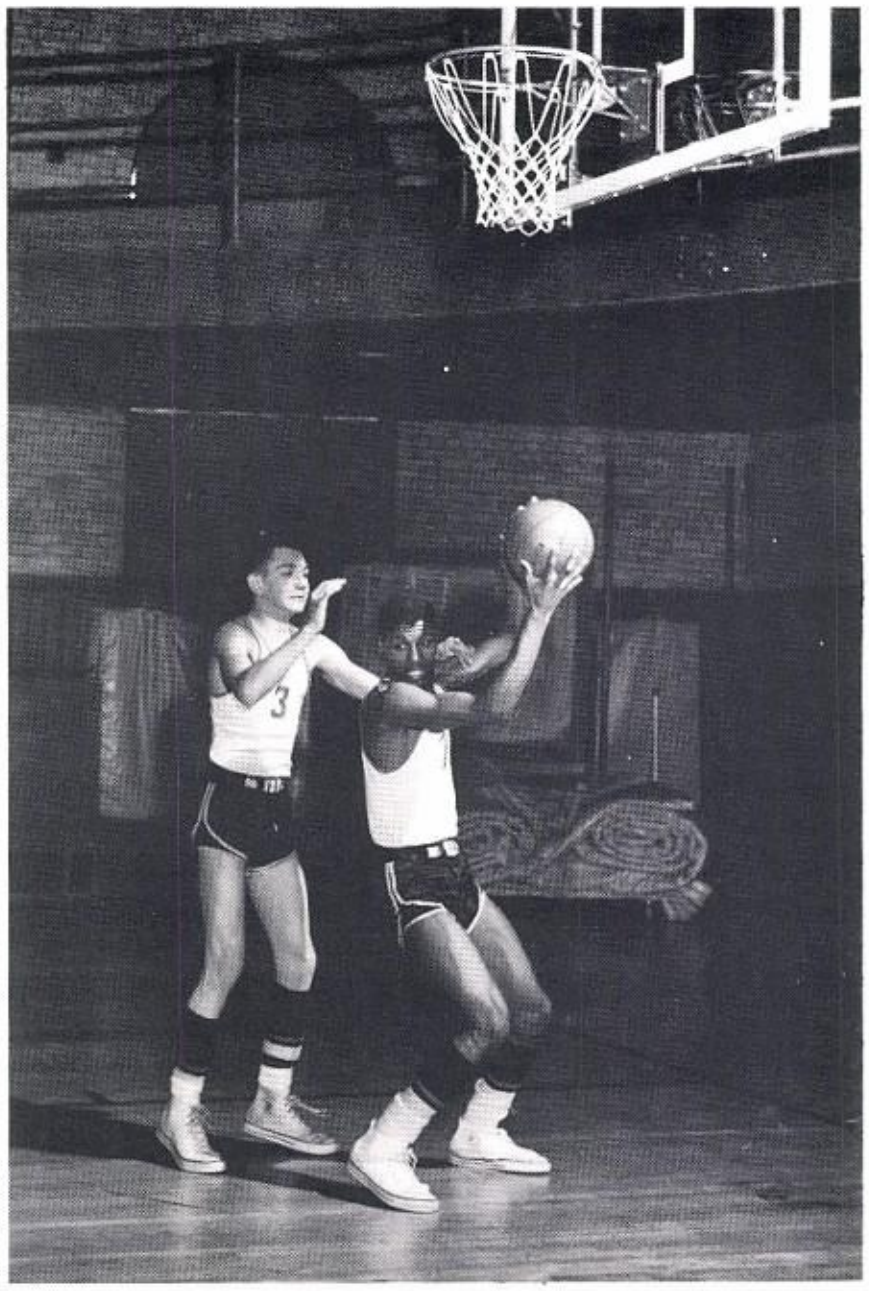
TEAMMATES EXHIBIT AGILITY IN WARM-UP.



Withrow's crystal ball, prophesying the success or failure of the future Tiger hardcourt squads, has given its preview through the record of the Junior High team. Coach Robert Galvin, besides teaching science, showed his coaching ability by stressing liberal substitution in order to give each boy equal chance to show his varied talent. Although teamwork was the keyword, high spirits and unity played a large part in the over-all prosperity of this team destined to carry the proud Tiger name.

Track, An Ancient Sport, Appeals To Modern Youth

BREATHLESSLY, CONNER AND STEWART STRAIN TOWARD THE FINISH.

With the coming of spring days in March, the track in Withrow's stadium became a scene of turmoil and confusion. The different events of the sport were practiced, with each participant displaying a hearty desire to do his best. Tracing its roots back to the ancient Greeks, the decathlon of track and field is designed in such a fashion that it may test the ability of the competitor to the limit. With Mr. Higgins as their adviser and coach, the Tiger cindermen produced quite a display in the initial meets of the season. Withrow has a long-standing reputation as the team to beat.

POLE VAULTING TAKES SKILL IN MANIPULATION.

At the time of writing, Withrow's Junior High Track Team, coached by Mr. Huheey, has done quite well in public high competition, winning two of their first three meets. Two new Withrow records were made during the 1959 season. Nathan Martin set a new time for the 120 yard low hurdles, while George Meadows was top man in the pole vault. The team was handicapped somewhat this year by several injuries. With the injured boys in shape they hoped to win their second consecutive city championship, having won the Junior Public High School League Competition Title in 1957-1958. Whatever the outcome, the junior track team is providing invaluable experience.

SACKMAN HANDLEY ATTEMPTS A BUNT WHILE ELDER CATCHES.

Withrow's sackmen opened the season by romping over Norwood, 3 to 0, with two runs in the third inning on an error, two hit batters, and a pair of walks. Pitching for the sackers were Harold Caldwell and Tom Arnold. Giving them signals from behind the plate was Ken Elder. Dan Handley was kept busy out in left field, while Evans Montgomery fielded the long flies out in right; Huey Starks took all drives in center. The Cunningham brothers teamed up for third base and shortstop positions. Jack played third base and Jerry was valuable as shortstop. John Dieckman, the only sophomore on the squad, was first basemen. Second base was home ground for senior Charles Harris, who had previously played recreational ball in Detroit. Coaching this year was Mr. Ernst, who replaced Mr. Hauck, who is now at Western Hills. Winning the first three games helped Coach Ernst give encouragement to his Tigers for the spring season that was to come.

A third inning rally gave Withrow all of its six runs in the game against Purcell. Harris walked, Jerry Cunningham singled, Starks walked, and all were driven home on James' deep left double. Jack Cunningham's two run scorcher accounted for the rest. Starter Phil Ritchie was relieved in the fourth by Dick Beiser who allowed but two singles. The "big nine" whipped the Spartans 10-6 while the Central Knights and the West Hi Mustangs dimmed Tiger spirits in successive defeats, 11-0 and 6-0, respectively. Despite excellent fielding and hitting, the Tiger diamondmen could not buck the Bulldogs barrage of eight runs to our two.

Tiger Turfmen Practice For The Tournament

Par, birdie, eagle, and bogey are terms frequently heard on the golf course. To Withrow turfmen these words bring either a smile or a frown. This year saw many new boys on the team under the supervision of Mr. Kittleson, himself an accomplished golfer. During the practice sessions the coach offers help and advice which encourages the players to correct any faults impairing their game. Earl Northcutt is leading the team with a score in the high 70's. With his help Withrow hopes to fare well in the tournament which the Tigers enter with two wins and two ties.

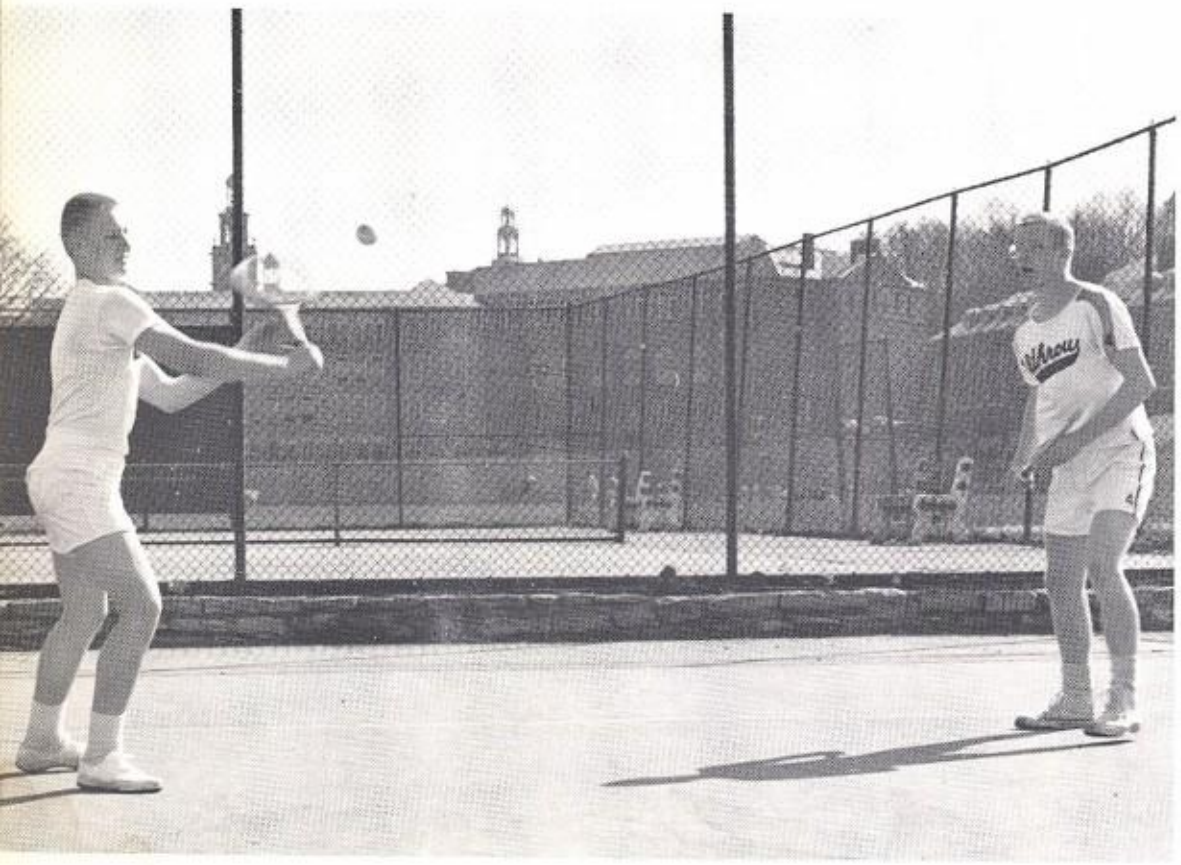
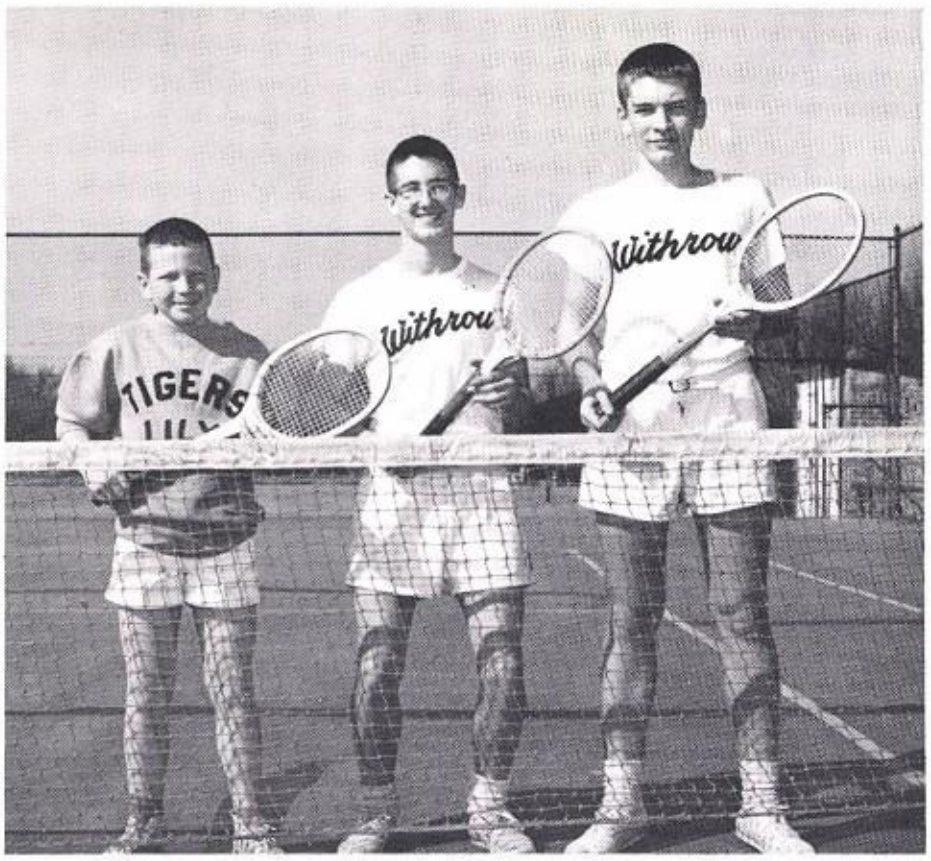
MILLER AND COWPERTHWAITE COMPETE IN DOUBLES.



Withrow's varsity tennis team of 1959 performed tremendously, and their deep desire to win was one of the reasons the team was so successful. Singles men Jenike, Miller, and Sherman combined their efforts to beat Hughes, Woodward, Purcell, and Holmes early in the season. Miller and Cowperthwaite, Nagelson and Farr, doubles teammates, also competed to bring home many outstanding victories. After their league matches the team as a whole plays in a city tournament. The teams that play in it are from greater Cincinnati. From district meets the players that finish in the semi-finals are allowed to go to the state meet. Because the Annual must go to press early in spring, we are unable to give the readers a full season account of all the games played but we are sure the team will have a fine season.



THE RACKETMEN ARE READY AND RARING TO GO.

In spring a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love, in tennis that is. The reserve netmen practice diligently for about two hours on warm spring afternoons. Mastery of backhand, forehand, and serve is a goal of the racketmen of the junior high. The little racketeers are sometimes perplexed, not only by the many serves used, but also by the strange terminology used, including such incongruous names as love, deuce, and add. Scoring sets and matches is another thing to learn. Coached by Mr. Sherman, the reserve racketmen play matches the same days that the varsity do, providing the opposing team has a junior high squad. The number of schools having reserve teams is few, but Withrow feels that the junior high squad is valuable.

Mermen Bring Honor To Withrow

Withrow mermen showed their prowess and aquatic ability in another highly exciting and fast-moving year. This year's varsity swimming team was coached by Mr. Graham, succeeding Mr. Meador. Withrow's two hundred yard relay medley team composed of Ernest Hirt, Harry Lobring, John Tims and Tom Glueck, broke the old city record in 1959. For the second year in a row, Bill Glueck placed in the diving competition, taking first position. Despite a superb team effort and many outstanding individual performances, the Withrow tankmen captured only fourth place in the Public High School League competition. Looking on the brighter side of things, however, the varsity team walked away with seventh place out of a field of thirty-five in the state-wide swimming meet.

Junior Swim came in third in the invitation. For the over-all points in the city, Withrow placed third. Tom Kidd and Dave Deck, the co-captains, were outstanding members. They and the other boys competed in eight meets, consisting of three city meets, a dual meet with St. Xavier, and the Invitation Meet. In the city practice and the city events, Withrow averaged second and usually placed right behind Walnut Hills. The team lost to St. Xavier in the dual meet, 27 to 32, following Walnut Hills and Princeton.

BOTH COACH AND ATHLETE BEAM WITH PRIDE.

Three years ago the boys started a new custom at Withrow. That was the first All-Sports Banquet at which deserving boys were awarded letters and trophies for ability and sportsmanship; players and coaches of each individual sport were represented. Because the idea seemed a fitting way to close the year's activities it became an annual event. It has become a custom to have a renowned individual of the sports world as speaker of the evening. This year was no exception, with Johnny Pont, Miami University football coach, being the chosen speaker. With dinner out of the way, the guests settled back to watch the presentation of the trophies to the most deserving individuals. The presentations finished, Mr. Gilliand, director of athletics at Withrow, introduced Mr. Pont. When he was finished, Mr. Rolfes, assistant football coach, rose and paid tribute to the most outstanding athlete of the year, Harold Stewart, a worthy boy.

Officers Make Another Successful G. A. A. Year

Being one of the largest organizations, the Girls' Athletic Association, G.A.A. must be efficient and have cooperation. This year's president was Joyce Bley. Under her were Nancy Van Epps, vice prexy; Jinx Duncan, treasurer; Lois Gwinner, recording secretary; Jan Smith, historian; Carolyn Van Epps, corresponding secretary; and Virginia Fischer, junior high adviser. Throughout the year various activities, besides the seasonal sports, were carried on. A dance, "Candyland Capers," and several afternoon parties provided fun as well as entertainment. Selling small stuffed dogs and apples helped build up the treasury. In G.A.A. a girl can find some sport in which to participate, whether it be baseball, hockey, swimming, or bowling. Fellowship, good sportsmanship, and teamwork are enjoyed by every girl. To climax the year's activities, the annual banquet brings awards of trophies and silver charms and bracelets to many outstanding participants.

Each G.A.A. sport requires a great amount of careful, attentive, recording work. The managers and advisers spend many hours after the last whistle of the day is blown, checking attendances and the won-and-lost records. Mrs. Dorthy Lally, girls' physical education department head, with the help of Miss Elizabeth Leslie and Miss Jollene Barnes, referee after-school games and aid each manager in her sport. Miss Grace Blasberg, former physical education teacher, and Miss Helen Taylor, founder of Withrow's G.A.A., add their support as advisers. At the G.A.A. Banquet managers are honored for their services.

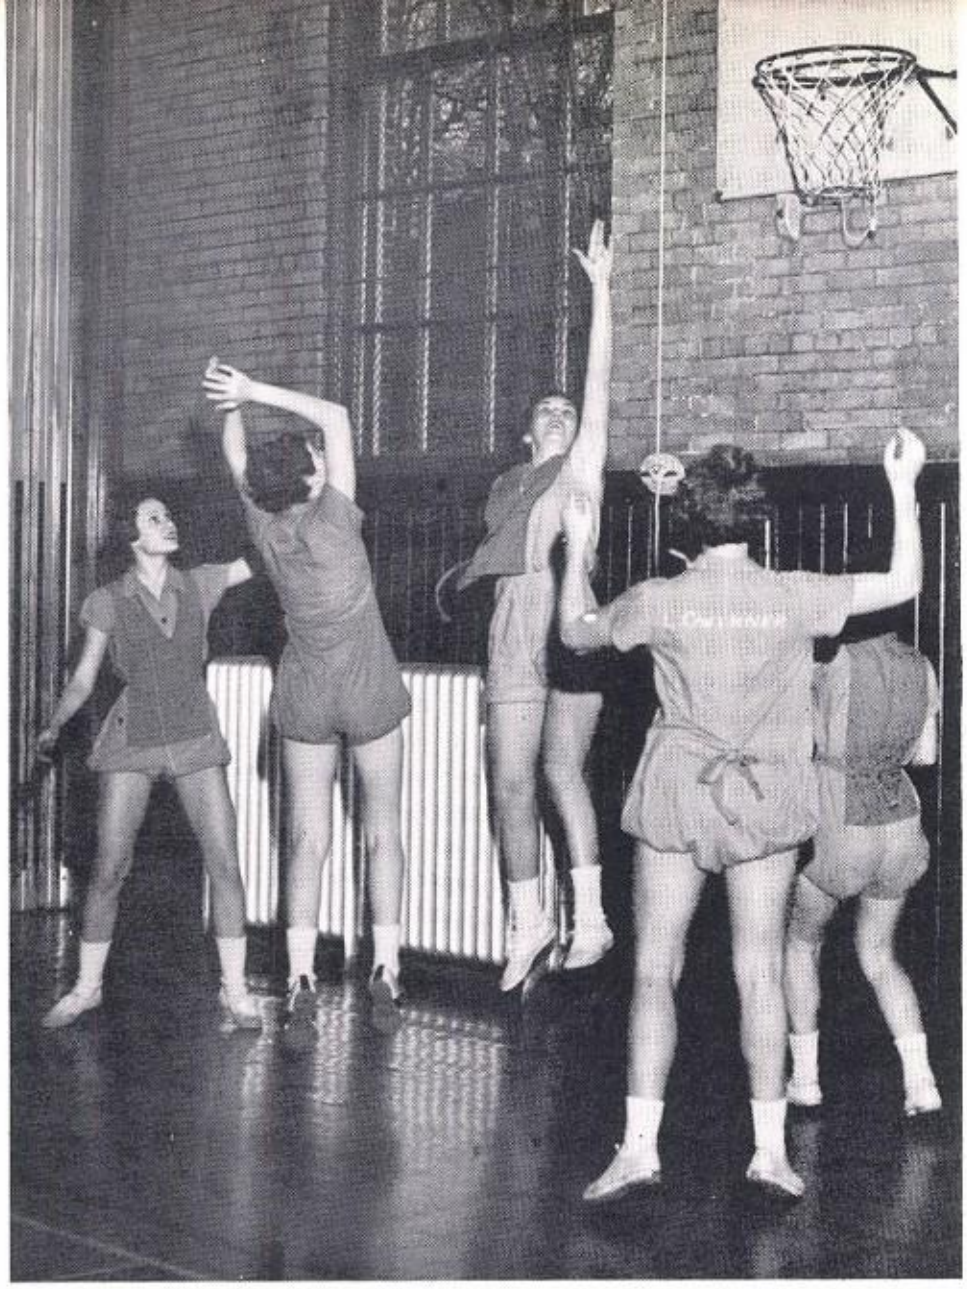
Again this fall, hockey consumed a large portion of time for G.A.A.'ers. With sticks in hand and shins well guarded, the various teams trouped onto the field with one purpose in mind—to win. The players and the sideliners shared the excitement of wondering who would score. The sale of the little stuffed animals was carried on during the games. At Christmas, some of the girls helped in the putting up of the traditional tree in the main hall. It greets all newcomers to Withrow, as well as adding a delightful aroma to our halls. Another gathering of fellow G.A.A.'ers took place at the Heyday Party which had "Around the Calendar with G.A.A." as a theme. The jitterbugging contest made a coke taste very refreshing. Memories of these good times and the fellowship will be long treasured by the girls.



GRACEFUL GESTURES EXEMPLIFY CO-ORDINATION.

November found numerous G.A.A. girls vigorously participating in volleyball. Under the management of Jean Markley, the forty-three teams enjoyed this winter sport. While playing in after-school games, the girls competed for positions on the five volleyball playday teams. The three outstanding teams demonstrated their skill at Central; while the others performed at Western Hills. The many teams organized for basketball were just one evidence of the intense interest in the sport. A referee's course is offered to participants and includes learning the basic rules and penalties. Honor teams and class teams are picked from among these girls on the basis of ability, cooperation, and group participation. Being on the honor team enables twelve specially selected girls to earn extra points for awards presented to them at the traditional G.A.A. banquet.

ACTIVE G.A.A.'ERS ENJOY A GAME OF SHUFFLEBOARD.

On the fourth of November, twelve girls gathered to participate in the singles shuffleboard tournament. Competition eventually narrowed the contenders down until only two of the original twelve remained—Jinx Duncan and Cathy Coyne. Capturing two of the three games, Jinx took the championship. Partners, Mary Ellen McCann and Laurie Mulliken, wrested the doubles championship in this event, after a similar elimination series on the twenty-fourth of March. A reward signifying their skill in this field was a silver charm, presented at Honor Night Banquet. For loyal G.A.A.'ers, the coming of the spring months brought to mind the thoughts of the dusty baseball diamond. While playing in individual games, participants were being judged by the advisers and managers for positions on playday and class teams. Two honor teams were chosen from the girls who possessed the all important qualities of sportsmanship, skill, and cooperativeness. The victorious team in this match was awarded special certificates at the climax of the season.

Echoing shouts of laughter and commands arise from the girls' swimming pool every Thursday after school. It was here that Withrow's Senior High Dolphins met under the excellent supervision of the president, Jinx Duncan, who was ably assisted by Betty Lou Bloss, vice president and Charlene Heis, treasurer. Miss Leslie, Dolphin Club's adviser, helps the members learn the fundamentals of life saving. But all is not duty for these girls. In addition to their work on life saving, these members actively participate in swimming meets, where they compete in intra-school competition against the other Tiger maidens. Through the process of elimination, they work their way to the city finals, where the winner is proclaimed first in the city. Another activity is the summer party at Coney Island. Here the girls, having proven themselves to be top-notch swimmers and having attained sterling silver charms for their bracelets as proof of their ability and achievements, may enjoy their chosen sport as they see fit. Miss Mabel Robinson, Advisor

Jr. High G.A.A.'ers need plenty of practice in order to be ready to compete in senior high sports. Through a wide selection of sports, Jr. G.A.A., under the leadership of Miss Mabel Robinson, adviser, and Evelyn Marr, president, offered the girls a chance to develop their skills. The season begins with soccer, after which volleyball provides action for the first semester. Basketball, tumbling, and track follow, to give opportunities for participation to all members. Chevrons and letters are awarded to the winning teams at the close of each year.

One of the many organizations providing recreation for the students of Withrow is the Junior High G.A.A. This outstanding program of organized sports for girls is sponsored by the athletics department at Withrow. Among the many varied programs are individual sports, Junior High Dolphin Club, Junior Dance Club, volleyball, softball, soccer, hockey, and tumbling. In each of these branches, as in any organization, a great deal of concentration, practice, and teamwork is necessary. Often the rigorous and extensive practice results in aching muscles and considerable discomfort for a short period. The end result, however, is a graceful display of supple co-ordination and fun.

The stifling June heat caused the underclassmen to squirm and perspire. Their heads raised; squirming stopped. Majestically from the far side of the athletic track came the seniors. Dressed in beautiful summer dresses of soft shades were the girls, who began the march. Then came the boys with their spotless suits and starched dress shirts. When the grand march was over and everyone was once again settled, the upper ten percent of the class was called to the field. Soon each thrilled student had taken his place of honor and the presentation of awards began. Scholarships from various colleges, industries, and organizations were received. To climax the day's events Dux and Sig called their new members. The girls, who were named by poems, received carnations. Then the Sigs followed, forming their customary huddle. As the boys heard their names echo through the stadium, they came forth to receive their pins.

Slowly and triumphantly the self-assured seniors and leaders of tomorrow march across the field accompanied by the solemn strains of Flambeau's "Pomp and Circumstance." The attentive crowd rises as the flag passes, borne by the president-elect of the Senior Class. The pledge is given; the invocation is finished. The principal gives his farewell speech containing encouragement and guidance. The president of the graduating class acknowledges the principal and delivers a speech expressing the aims and thank-you's of his fellow classmates. He believes the seniors of 1959 will strive to be worthy of their predecessors. They are grateful to the faculty, advisers, and administrators of Withrow for the expert training and guidance they have been given. Due to the progress and developments of the past year there are unlimited opportunities in sight for them in the business world, the fields of science, medicine, teaching, and law. The diploma is given and received; the hands are momentarily clasped—symbolic of respect and gratitude. The class rises for a prayer of thanks and is then dismissed. All of the underclassmen of Withrow High School wish them luck.

Occasionally we find just the right combination of charm, modesty, brains, and ability in one small person. Phyllis Beasley was just such a bundle of perfection. With time filled to the brim, she always seemed calm and poised. Naturally, she was the ideal choice for the '59 Literary Editor of the Withrow yearbook. (Of course, Phyllis did not O.K. this copy block.)

Busy Dave Bean, a capable leader, held many important offices at Withrow. Dave achieved recognition as the vice president of the Senior Class and sergeant-at-arms of Sigma Gamma. Among his other activities were Tri Chi, Tiger Club, and Student Council. Perhaps the captaincy of the football team during his senior year was the biggest thrill for this active Sig.

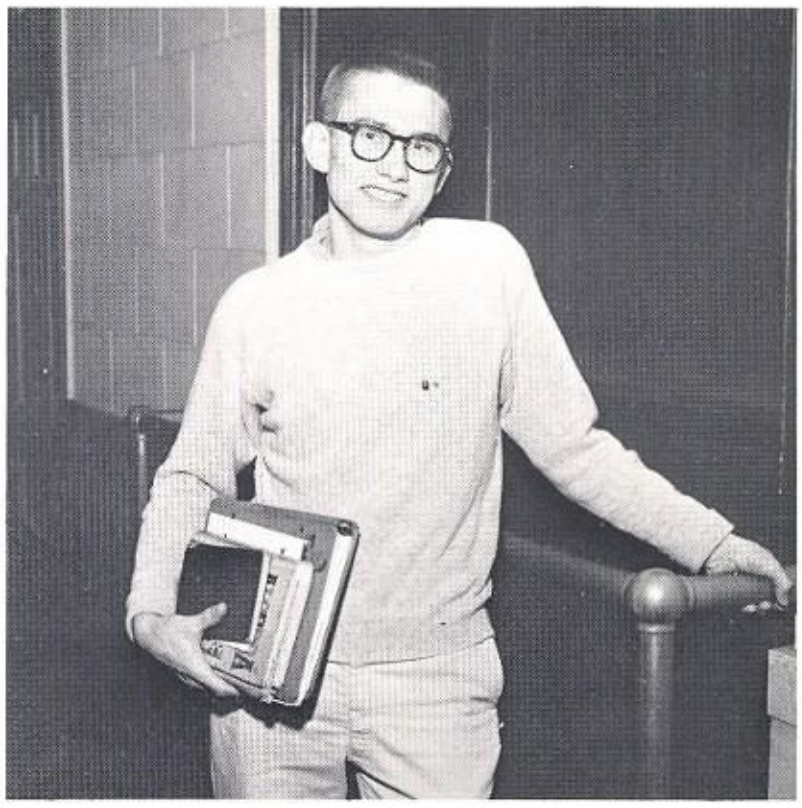
Superior athletic qualifications and a keen sense of responsibility gained the presidency of G.A.A. for agile Joyce Bley. Her entertaining gift of gab was an additional asset in securing prospective clients for Tower News, which she served as Advertising Manager. This cute and vivacious Dux Femina well deserved the title of Withrow's Pigskin Preview Queen.



High in the rank of his class scholastically, Bob Blaney merited fame and honor from all. Evenings found him working tediously to meet the Thursday deadline for Tower News' sport page, while on weekends he shared his amusement in the "Bubble" with "Bim." Though days may go and years may pass, Bob Blaney has left a deep impression on his associates at Withrow.

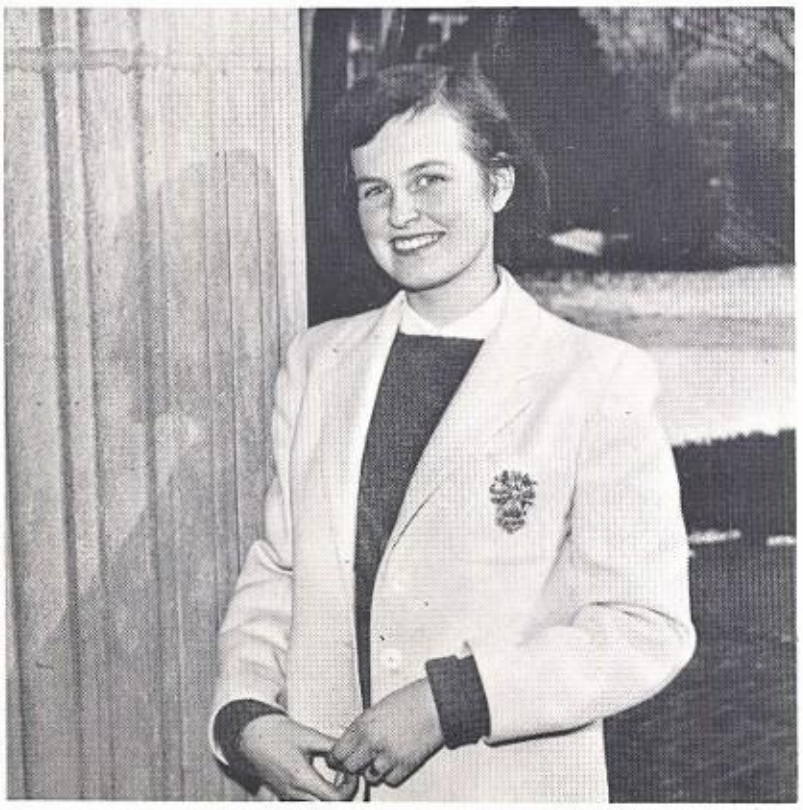
Quiet, but persuasive, and always ready to help describes Pat Crawford, ambitious secretary of the Senior Class. Her efficiency was often called upon in her duties as co-editor of first page in Tower News. Fellow students, realizing her qualities of leadership, named her prexy of Quill and Scroll and Scribblers. Yes, Pat, "the sweet smell of success" is yours.



If not working in his father's drug store, Jack Cover could be found practicing his favorite sport—baseball—out on the diamonds, or hurrying to and from his many activities. Jack became familiar to all around Withrow, not only for high scholastic abilities, but also for his humorous and witty personality. Almost as familiar was Jack's bright smile.

One of the most popular senior girls this year was Ann Damon. "Annie," quiet and thoughtful, was a member of Quill and Scroll and Scribblers literary club. Being aedile for Latin Class and recording secretary for Dux exemplified her ultimate abilities. Also high on her list of activities were G.A.A., co-editor of Tower News, and Dolphin Club.

Humor and intellect were combined to make Bill Derringer an outstanding personality at Withrow. As Student Council treasurer he dependably and faithfully executed his duties. Beta Hi-Y and varsity basketball were also part of Bill's busy program. Students and teachers alike remember Bill's ambitious attitude which gained him respect and admiration from his friends.

Presiding over Student Council this year was dignified Ken Elder. His abilities in speech and leadership prompted the members of Sigma Gamma to select him as their president. When spring came along, he was seen on the baseball diamond catching for the Tigers' varsity squad. Ken will long be remembered by his teachers for his scholastic and athletic achievements.

Kay Ferguson's head for business secured for her the eminent positions of treasurer of Dux Femina and Senior Choir. Perhaps "Casey's" accuracy in accounting was even more important in her position as business manager of Tower News. Kay's spontaneous personality was especially noticeable during the Minstrel season when she participated in a girls' vocal trio.

Sally Frame's proficiency in Latin won her the presidency of Gens Togata, while her musical talents accounted for participation in Senior Choir. "Bim's" inner warmth and friendly disposition brightened the lives of all her classmates, and her scholastic achievements brought additional fame to Withrow. Enthusiastic and sincere, Sally certainly merited the call to Dux.

One of the most outstanding of the many skillful Withrow Mermen was Bill Glueck. Whether leading the way in gaining points for his team or setting an example of scholastic achievement, Bill was sure to command the respect and admiration of his associates. His friendliness, symbolized by his cheerful smile, was a great asset to him and a contribution to Withrow.

Senior Prom

As spring rounds the corner and the school year comes to a close, all thoughts are directed toward the most eventful dance of the year—the Senior Prom. One and all, girls in their most attractive formals, boys in handsome tuxedos, arrived at the Pavilion Caprice, scene of this most festive occasion. Perhaps the most exciting moments of the dance were during the presentation of the Senior Prom Queen. All of the candidates, presidents of their sororities, slowly made their way, accompanied by their escorts, through a long court, up to the bandstand. One girl's heart filled with happiness when, in the tense silence, her name rang clear—Senior Prom Queen of 1959, Miss Gayle Schirmer!

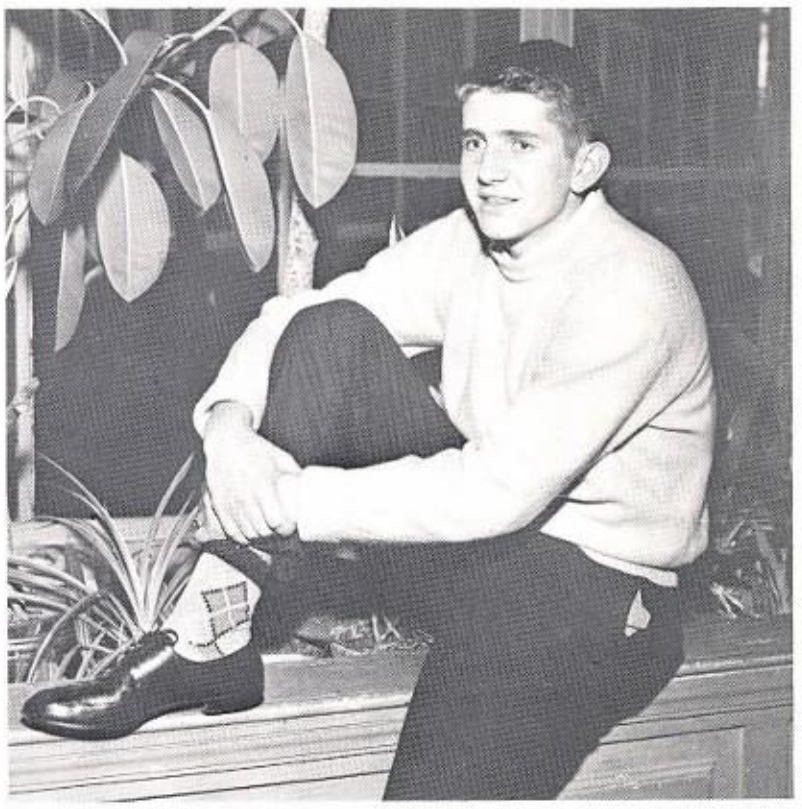
Lyda Ott, the petite and peppy blond with a vivacious manner,. kept school spirit at its height as she led the cheers at football and basketball games. A Minstreleer and officer of Dance Club, Lyda filled every spare minute of her busy schedule. With a sparkling smile and friendly hello as constant companions, it is no wonder she was so popular among her classmates.



Ernst Hirt, characterized by an amazing interest in the world's affairs, was a definite asset to the senior class. Although he entered Withrow in his junior year from Germany, his generous personality and leadership abilities were soon recognized. Ernst's participation in Student Council and the Swimming Team were evidences of a job well done by an outstanding Sigma Gamma.

Known for her quietness and academic standing, Dorothy Petroff was called upon to lead Dux as their president. As a member of Thalian, G.A.A., and History Club, Dorothy's talents were evident in all phases of a busy year. Besides being a typist for the Annual Literary Staff she contributed much to the selection of the theme of the 1959 Withrow Annual.

A big man on the campus of Withrow this year was Sigma Gamma's vice president, Dave Kleinschmidt. Dave's prowess in varsity football and record on the track team were matched only by his participation in Student Council and Beta Hi-Y. This Kappa's biggest thrill—with the exception of being called for Sigma Gamma—was being elected the senior class president.

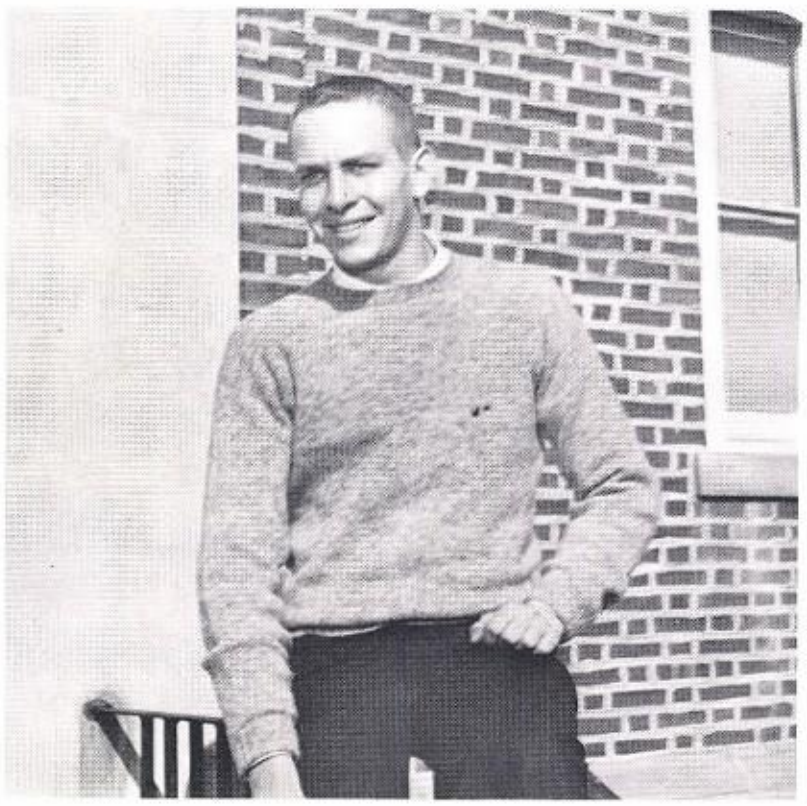
Though small and quiet, Della Potter certainly could do her share as a Withrow cheerleader. This sedate little Dux was also well known as a Minstreleer. Showing her efficiency, Della served as vice president of both Dux Femina and A.B.K. Participating in Dance Club and typing for the Annual Staff added to the long list of activities of this popular Withrow senior.



Seldom in the annals of Withrow has a boy attained Sigma Gamma with less effort to be "in the swim" than Roger Schwartz. He has obtained this popularity without the aid of any extra-curricular activities. Having the rank of an Eagle in the Boy Scouts took up most of his time. Roger made a very high scholastic record during his years at Withrow.

Seniors . . .

Probably one of the most vivacious of the Senior girls was Virginia Rogers, known to all as "Rog." While serving faithfully as historian of Dux and Scribblers and participating in Minstrels, G.A.A., and History Club, "Rog" was an outstanding example of friendliness and spirit. Her literary creations, intellect, and humor will be worthy contributions to our society.

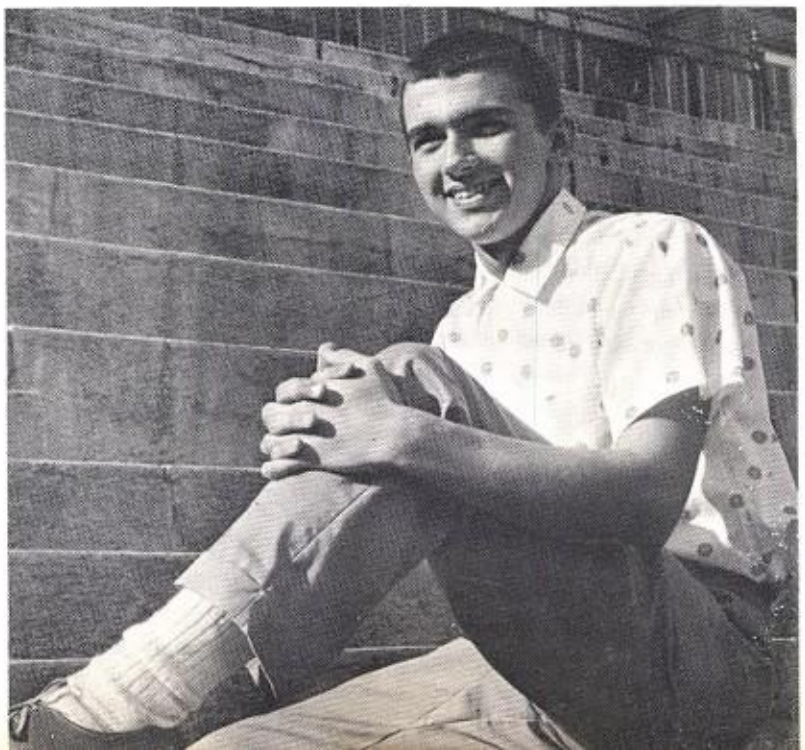
As co-editor of the '58 Annual Literary Staff, Jim Skeel helped to bring our annual the treasured All-American rating. By serving as an adviser for the Rotary Club Camp for Crippled Children and as president of Beta Hi-Y, he gained experience in the field he may choose to enter in the future. His characteristic nod of "hello" will be missed by his many friends.



Seniors . . .

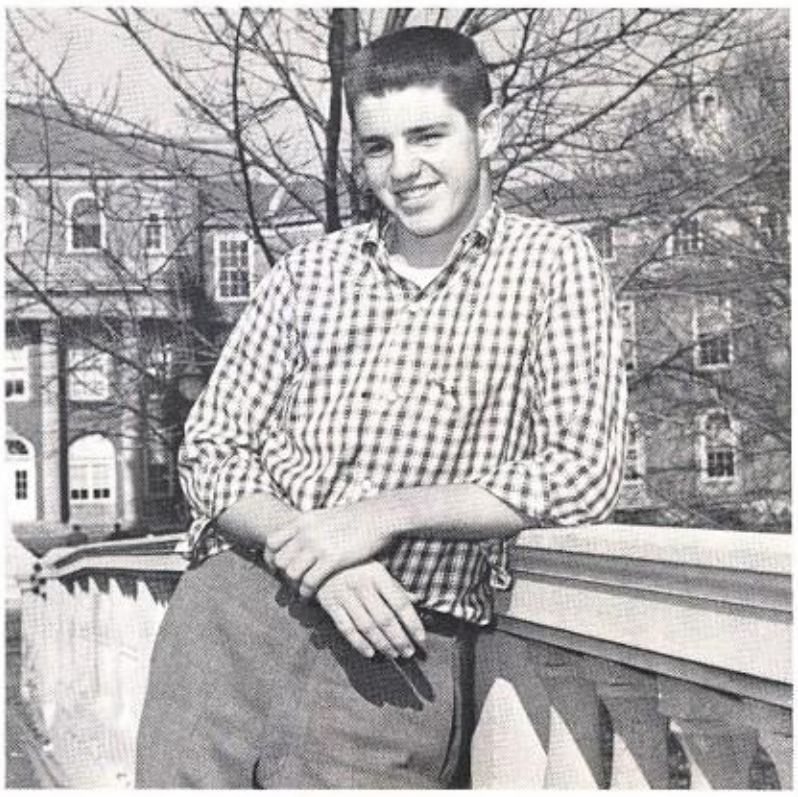
Her gay smile and radiant personality made Sue Scherer, a popular Withrowite. Activity in Thalian, Student Council, and G.A.A. engaged much of her spare time. Being a featured vocal soloist in the Minstrels and secretary of Senior Choir were evidences of her musical talent which won her eminency. Sue's character was highlighted by vivacity and cheerfulness.

Often seen around Withrow in the science labs and classrooms, Steve Temple participated in the advanced physics program during school and in the Physics Club after school. His main interest, however, lay deep in the heart of Kentucky where the University of Kentucky is located. Cordial,. congenial, and sincere, Steve made many lasting and binding friendships.



Grace and poise unlimited, plus ardent enthusiasm, described Gayle Schirmer, cheerleader and Minstrel soloist. One of her greatest accomplishments is her part in this book. Gayle served her classmates well as Treasurer of the Senior Class. Her warm, sincere manner and friendly sense of humor were distinctive traits of an all-around, good-natured senior.

John Wolcott, an outstanding individual, was engrossed this past year in several activities. While his musical talents were revealed by his participation in the band, his scholastic interests centered around History Club, and his strong feeling of citizenship in Student Council. In his quiet and reserved way, John maintained Withrow's traditional standards.

Senior Popularity Poll

Pat Crawford—Bill Derringer
MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED

Shortly after Christmas, Tower News sponsored its yearly popularity poll. Requirements for nomination were passing marks and the student's being in his senior year. The preliminary ballots were issued, and the results indicated the finalists, two girls and two boys for each category, who ran for the various positions. The positions open were most popular, most vivacious, most mannerly, most talented, most athletic, most likely to succeed, cutest, friendliest, brainiest, wittiest, best looking, best dressed, best dancers, and cutest couple. The junior members on Tower News Staff, who were responsible for counting the ballots, are to be congratulated on their ability to keep a secret. Suspense reigned until Tigertown's most popular seniors were announced at Cardiac Capers. Withrowites stood breathlessly waiting for Judy Weiss and Patty Balton to begin, "Voted most popular are. . . ."

Skip Haungs—Jackie Devore
MOST TALENTED

Joyce Bley—Harold Stewart
